Democrats Clinch Control Eisenhower To Address Congress Tomorrow

Ike To Plead For Mideast Defense Plan

Likely To Receive Standby Authority To Use U.S. Troops

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (P)—President Eisenhower will appear before Congress in person at 12:30 p.m. EST Saturday to present his plea for special authority to prevent Communist aggression in the Middle East.

What he wants—and what he appears likely to get—is approval of a resolution authorizing him to use American military forces if he should deem it necessary.

The administration has been pushing for quick action on the request for standby authority. The sense of urgency was underlined by the White House request for a joint session at which the President could present his arguments. Both Senate and House leaders were agreeable.

Situation Called Dangerous

Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles already have talked with groups of senators and representatives. Dulles, for example, has described the situation in the Middle East as highly dangerous and said that Russia "may well move" to expand its influence there.

Russia has accused the United States of wanting to assume power over the area in the wake of the Israeli-Arab troubles and the British-French invasion of Egypt following Egypt's seizure of the Suez Canal.

The administration's Middle East resolution, besides asking standby authority for the President, calls for spending 400 million dollars in economic aid for the Middle East countries during the two years beginning next July 1.

Formosa Resolution Recalled

There has not been much outcry against either part of the proposal. However, it remained to be seen whether it would be adopted by anything like the margins given the "fight if we must" resolution Congress adopted in 1955 in the Red China-Formosa situation.

The Formosa resolution authorized the President to use U.S. armed forces and any measures he might find necessary to safeguard the Chinese Nationalist island from Communist attack. So far, Formosa has not been invaded.

The Senate approved the Formosa resolution 85-3 and the House endorsed it 409-3.

Rep. Burdick (R-ND) challenged the constitutionality of the Middle East resolution in a statement today. He said that under it, Eisenhower could start a war without coming to Congress, whereas the Constitution reserves to Congress the authority to declare war.

Postage Rate Boost Under Consideration

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (P)—A proposal to raise the postage rate on letters to five cents is under consideration by the Post Office Department.

The department said Postmaster General Summerfield has approached members of Congress on the idea. Congress would have to approve. In the last two sessions it has turned down Summerfield's request that the first-class rate be increased to four cents from three.

In saying that a five-cent rate is under consideration, the department said nothing had been put in a final form, but that when it is it will be announced in detail.

Papers Raise Prices

TROY, N.Y., Jan. 3 (P)—Troy's two daily newspapers will cost seven cents each, beginning Monday. The one-cent boost was announced today by the Troy Record Co., owner of the Troy Record and the Times Record.

Handling Of Aid To Iran Blasted

HITS SEGREGATION—U.S. District Judge Emmett Choate (above) ruled yesterday that Florida and Miami laws requiring segregated seating on buses are unconstitutional and "hence unenforceable." He gave the city of Miami 10 days to file a motion in answer to his ruling. (AP Photofax)

Federal Judge Rules Out Bus Segregation

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 3 (P)—U.S. Dist. Judge Emmett Choate ruled today that Florida and Miami laws requiring Negroes to sit in the rear of Miami Transit Co. buses are unconstitutional.

In an off-the-cuff oral opinion, which he promised to put in writing if necessary, the judge said: "I have no hesitation in saying that these segregation laws—pertaining to buses—are unconstitutional and hence unenforceable."

He gave the city of Miami 10 days to file a motion in answer to his ruling. The City Commission went into a hurried, special session to map future strategy.

Matter Taken Under Study
After a brief meeting, the commission instructed the city attorney's office to study the matter further and take "whatever legal action" it feels is warranted.

And Asst. City Atty. Jack Smith, who handled the case for the city, cautioned that "anybody who attempted to intimidate or use force to make a Negro sit in the back of a bus will be in contempt of federal court."

Spokesman for Florida branches of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People hailed the ruling by the 65-year-old Republican judge as a "real victory" in their fight to end segregation.

Explicit Ruling
G. E. Graves Jr. of Miami, counsel for the NAACP, and other attorneys connected with the case indicated they felt it would be futile for the city to file any answer to the ruling, since Choate spelled out so explicitly that he considers any segregated seating requirements unconstitutional. In stating his opinion, Choate cited the recent U.S. Supreme Court ruling against bus segregation in the Montgomery, Ala., case.

Eight Taken Off Mt. Blanc, Two Others Left For Dead

CHAMONIX, France, Jan. 13 (P)—Daring helicopter pilots snatched eight men off the frigid face of Mt. Blanc today. But two young Alpinists that the eight had tried to save were left for dead in the wreckage of a rescue helicopter on Europe's highest mountain.

The grieving parents of the two men declined a final offer by a noted Swiss army pilot to make one more rescue attempt. The flier, Hermann Geiger, proposed that three light ski planes be landed on the mountainside to whisk the two men away.

But under conditions of swirling snow and subzero temperatures the parents considered—and said no.

Thus closed one of history's most drama-filled mountain res-

Broad Inquiry Requested By House Group

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (P)—The House International Operations subcommittee reported today that millions in U.S. aid to Iran has been administered in such a "loose, slipshod" way as to be "shocking."

It called for a broad congressional inquiry into foreign aid. The subcommittee report sounded a jarring note compared to what, so far, has been a fairly general chorus of congressional approval of President Eisenhower's plan to thwart any Communist aggression in the Middle East.

Iran is a strategic Middle East country bordering Russia and owning an estimated 13 per cent of the world's oil reserves. It presumably would figure in the Eisenhower plan, which envisages a 400-million-dollar, two-year aid program for the Middle East.

Eisenhower will personally speak to a joint session of Congress Saturday about his proposal. Earlier report revised.

A congressional source, asking not to be quoted by name, said both a high-ranking congressional Democrat and Secretary of State Dulles felt an earlier version of the subcommittee report should not be made public at this time in view of the delicate Middle East situation. That report has since been revised to cut out some material critical of the Iranians.

Subcommittee Chairman Hardy (D-Va.) said his eight-man group then went ahead and approved the revised version at a closed session today. However, the document does not become official until it is approved by the parent House Government Operations Committee. Hardy said he would submit the report at the first opportunity.

"Ad Hoc" Method

The report pictured U.S. gift dollars as pouring into Iran following an economic crisis set off by Iranian Premier Mossadegh's 1951 seizure of the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. It said the U.S. aid flow has been kept high even though Iran has regained her oil revenues.

The subcommittee said: "U.S. aid and technical assistance programs in Iran which, be-

Train Hits School Bus, Injuring 31

LIMA, Ohio, Jan. 3 (P)—Thirty school children and their Bath Township school bus driver were injured today when a Detroit, Toledo & Ironton Railroad switch engine collided with the bus at a Lima crossing. Four of the children were hospitalized.

Police said the switch engine carried the bus for 100 feet down the track and shoved it into a parked box car.

Hospitalized were Charlotte Smith, 16; her sisters, Dianne, 13, and Elizabeth, 14; and Judy DeLong, 10, all of Lima. Charlotte Smith had a fractured arm and the others possible internal injuries, hospital authorities reported.

Police said the bus driver, Oliver Hager, 47, of Lafayette, a teacher at the Bath school, told them he stopped at the crossing but didn't hear or see the train before starting across.

cue efforts—a 10-day trial of men and machines against biting cold and lashing snowstorms high on 15,781-foot Mt. Blanc.

Scores of veteran climbers and parachutists and several helicopters had joined in repeated attempts to rescue the two alpinists, Jean Vincendon, 23, a Frenchman, and Francois Henry, 24, a Belgian. The French secretary of state for air, Henry La Forest, officially terminated the rescue work after flying over the snow-blanketed area himself.

"The risks are out of proportion with results which could be hoped for," he said.

Maj. Yves le Gall, directing rescue operations, said: "It is improbable that Henry and Vincendon are still alive. To risk the lives of our men to bring down two bodies would be folly."

Crucial Vote On Filibuster Curb Today

Motion To Change Senate Rules Up For Decision At 6

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (P)—A motion aimed at changing the Senate's rules and placing restraint on filibusters was introduced today by Sen. Anderson (D-NM). The Senate agreed to a showdown vote on the issue at 6 p.m. tomorrow.

Two developments accompanied Anderson's move to clear the way for a civil rights program—legislation which filibustering Southern senators have talked to death in the past.

Senate Democratic Leader Johnson of Texas promptly offered a motion to table Anderson's proposal. A similar parliamentary maneuver four years ago succeeded in killing Anderson's 1953 attempt to change the rules. The vote at that time was 70-21.

Knowland Opposes Method

Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California came out against the proposed method of changing the rules, although not necessarily against putting a checkrein on filibusters.

Anderson's motion, which he offered on behalf of a coalition of Northern and Western senators, was that the Senate take up for consideration the question of adopting new rules. The group's contention is that the Senate rules do not necessarily continue from one Congress to another, but may be changed at the beginning of each new Congress by simple majority vote.

But Knowland said: "I believe not only that the Senate is a continuous body but that it has continuing rules. Any other decision would lead to a very chaotic condition in the Senate."

Six Hours Of Debate

The GOP leader said a filibuster can be broken under the Senate's present rules "if you are determined to do it." The present rules require the votes of 64 senators, two-thirds of the entire membership, to shut off debate and force an issue to a vote.

The bipartisan group headed by Anderson contends the present rules do not provide a practical way of ending filibusters. They say it is almost impossible to get a two-thirds majority of the entire chamber to agree to deny senators the right to go on talking.

It was agreed at the Senate's opening session today that debate on Anderson's motion would be limited to six hours—three to a side. The Senate will meet at 11 a.m., one hour earlier than usual, to get the debate under way.

Big School Aid Bill Introduced

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (P)—Rep. Kelley (D-Pa.) today introduced the first House bill of the new session of Congress, a $3,600,000,000 school aid measure.

The bill, formally labeled House Resolution 1, provides for a six-year program of federal aid in building schools in every state at the rate of 600 million dollars a year.

Under it, federal grants would be allotted on the basis of the school age population—5 through 17—in the states.

To meet objections that federal aid could lead to federal control, the bill says:

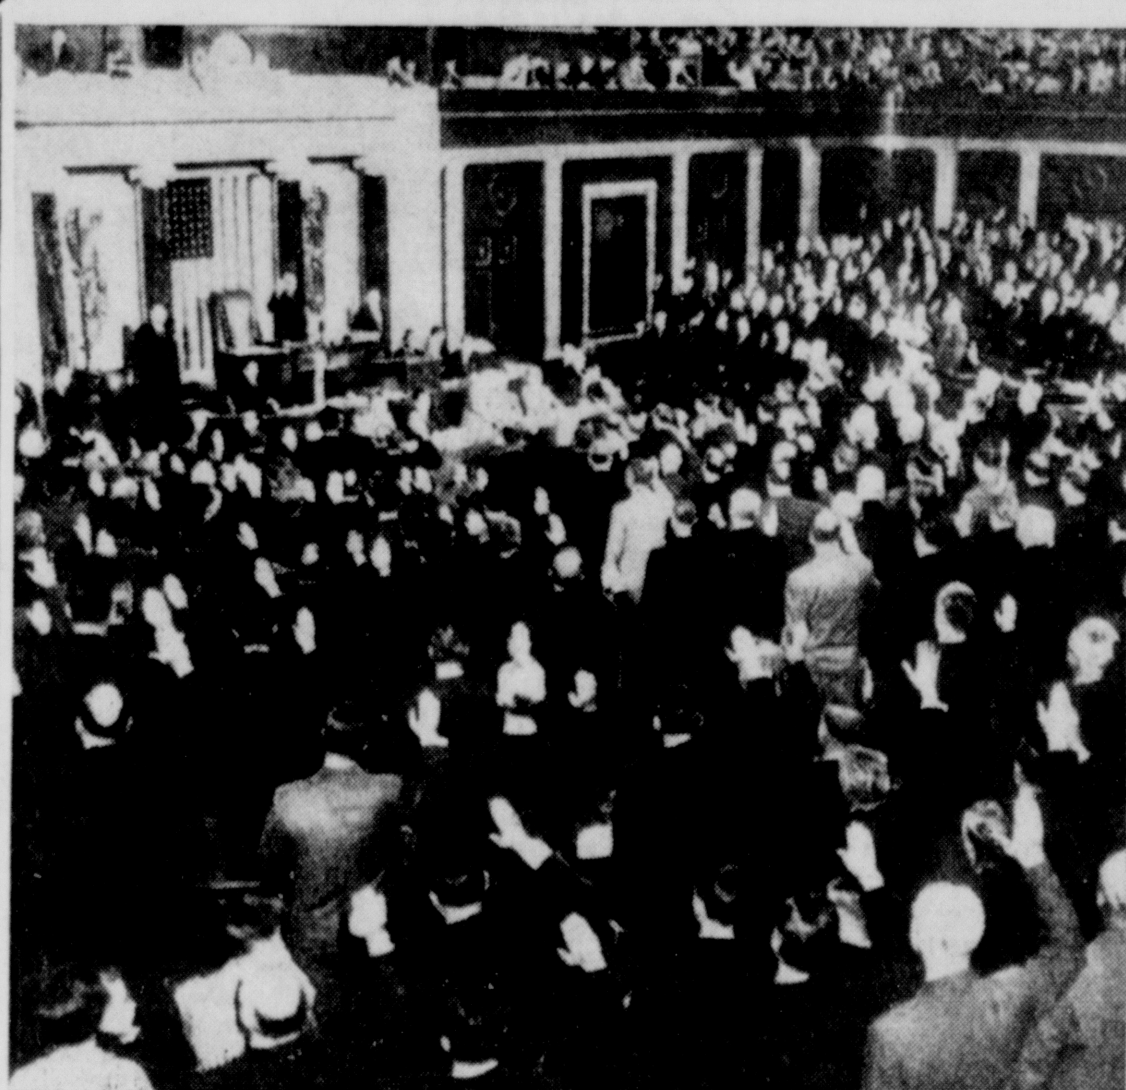

"In the administration of this act, no department, agency, officer, or employee of the United States shall exercise any direction, supervision, or control of the personnel, curriculum or program of instruction of any school or school system."

The Kelley bill makes no mention of racial segregation in the schools.

In the last session, a $1,600,000,000, five-year plan offered by Kelley was defeated in the House 224-194. This came after attachment of an amendment by Rep. Powell (D-NY) to forbid spending any of the money in school districts failing to comply with the Supreme Court's antisegregation order.

Congress Right To Inquire Into Beliefs Upheld

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (P)—The right of congressional committees to inquire into political beliefs and associations of witnesses "in the exercise of legislative duty" was upheld today by the U. S. Court of Appeals.

The court acted in the cases of two witnesses who had refused to answer questions from congressional committees relating to Communist affiliations.

Rejecting contentions of the defendants in the contempt cases that inquiry into political beliefs and associations is beyond the pale of Congress, the court said: "It (Congress) does have that power where the answer to the question posed can be and is regarded by Congress as having value in the exercise of legislative duty."

In separate unanimous decisions, the court affirmed the contempt of Congress convictions of Harry Sacher, New York attorney; and Lloyd Barenblatt, a former Vassar College instructor and onetime teaching fellow at the University of Michigan.

Sacher testified before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee April 19, 1955. He refused to say whether he was then or ever had been a member of the Communist party.

Barenblatt, testifying before the House Committee on Un-American Activities June 24, 1954, refused to answer similar questions.

Neither invoked the Fifth Amendment privilege against compulsory self-incrimination. Both, however, cited the First Amendment, contending it gave them the right to refuse to answer questions concerning political beliefs and associations.

Not Funny Situation

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., Jan. 3 (P)—Mary Livingstone and Gracie Allen routed a burglar last night, police report.

Officers said the two women—comedienne wives of comics Jack Benny and George Burns, respectively—were alone in Miss Livingstone's home when someone tried to pry open a screen.

Miss Livingstone screamed and the man fled.

White House Evades Report Marines In Mediterranean Have Atom Arms

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (P)—The White House today refused to confirm or deny a published report that U.S. Marines in the Mediterranean area are armed with "live" atomic artillery weapons.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty, apparently after consultation with President Eisenhower, did say that the President "has given no authority for use of atomic or any other weapons in the Middle East."

He added that American forces in the Mediterranean are there "without reference to any specific nation."

Gina Dates Stork; Wants Daughter

ROME, Jan. 3 (P)—Gina Lollobrigida said today she is going to have a baby in July and is hoping for a daughter. Her husband said he hopes that if the baby is a girl she will be as beautiful as her mother.

The shapely movie actress, Europe's biggest box office attraction, blushed like a schoolgirl as she greeted reporters at her fashionable home on the old Appian Way outside Rome's ancient walls.

Standing beneath a giant Christmas tree, she said she had summoned them to announce a "wonderful Christmas gift—a child."

Now 28, she married Dr. Milo Skofic in January 1949. This will be their first child.

Man Cut In Half Lives 5 Hours

HANNIBAL, Mo., Jan. 3 (P)—A man was cut in half just below the waist today and amazed physicians by living for more than five hours, fully conscious, and able to talk rationally until an anesthetic was administered for surgery.

"I never heard of such a thing," said Dr. J. W. Well, the attending physician at St. Elizabeth's Hospital. "Neither had any of the other doctors who came in to look at him. Most people injured in that way are dead when you see them."

John Bobbitt, 46, a resident of Mexico Mo., who had been staying with relatives here for the past month, was severed across the abdomen by a Burlington switch engine at 10:35 a.m.

He appeared to be in little pain and talked rationally with several persons, including his wife, his minister and physicians for three hours until the anesthetic was administered at 1:30 p.m.

Coroner Henry H. Sweets of Marion County said Bobbitt told several persons he threw himself in front of the engine and intended to take his own life.

One reason Bobbitt survived so long was that the crushing injury sealed off blood vessels and there was almost no bleeding, Dr. Well said. He realized his condition from the first and was told that he would die.

Traffic Deaths Climbed To New Record In 1956

CHICAGO, Jan. 3 (P)—Deaths in traffic accidents in the United States climbed to a new record in 1956.

The National Safety Council made the announcement today. It estimated last year's total at 40,200—231 more than the old record of 39,969 set in 1941.

The trend was upward for 19 months in a row until it was broken by a surprise drop of 12 per cent in October. Then the rise was resumed in November.

An Associated Press survey indicated the extension of Daylight Saving Time through October in many cities, providing an extra hour of daylight at a time when darkness normally increases evening rush hour hazards, was a factor in the October slump.

In the survey the number of traffic deaths in October 1956 was checked against the number in October of the last year when Daylight Saving Time ended on the last Sunday in September—either 1955 or 1954.

The toll declined from 12 to 8 in St. Louis, from 9 to 4 in Washington, from 20 to 13 in Philadelphia, from 6 to 4 in Pittsburgh, from 8 to 5 in Louisville, from 2 to 1 in Lexington, Ky.

Police reports showed 57 deaths in a four-week period in October 1955 in New York City and 35 in a comparable four-week period last October.

Several of the sampled cities showed no change.

Chicago showed an increase—from 29 deaths in October 1954, the last year of September-ended daylight time, to 36 in October this year.

Boston had 3 deaths in October 1954, under standard time and 6 in October 1955 under daylight time. All of the 6 were injured fatally at night.

Two Burn To Death

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (P)—A man and a woman were burned to death today when fire swept a two-story frame house in southwest Washington.

Police said Evelyn Gray, whose age was not determined, and Carl Stevenson, about 40, were burned almost beyond recognition. Stevenson, they said, was a cripple.

Drama Marks Organization Vote In Senate

Lausche Ends Long Mystery By Coming Through For Demos

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (P)—A new Congress that faces foreboding foreign policy problems and a touchy civil rights issue opened for business today. Democrats took control after a dramatic moment of Senate uncertainty.

And behind a facade of the customary good will and harmony of opening day, touches of tension were apparent over the grave question of granting President Eisenhower's request for power to send American troops into action against any Communist aggression in the Mideast.

Out of the first round of activity of the 85th Congress came a decision that on Saturday the President will come to Capitol Hill in person to deliver a special message and urge his Middle Eastern policy on a joint session of Senate and House.

First, the Senate is going to put in a solid seven hours tomorrow leading up to a climactic vote at 6 p.m. EST.

The result will determine how far a band of Northern and Western senators of both parties will go in rewriting the rules and curbing the filibuster—a device to convert lung power into legislative power which Southerners have used with deadly effect against civil rights legislation.

Pretty Futile Fight

Even members of the coalition conceded it was a pretty futile fight. In the lineup against them were the rival party leaders of the Senate, Democrat Lyndon Johnson of Texas and Republican William Knowland of California. Johnson and Knowland were tapped to keep their leadership posts at routine party caucuses during the morning.

Then, promptly at noon, gavels cracked down in Senate and House and rapped the new Congress into session. It was all harmony and gaiety as members took their oaths of office before applauding, packed galleries, or vent out of their way to shake hands with political enemies as well as friends.

In the House, Texas Democrat Sam Rayburn was re-elected 277-199 to continue a record-breaking tenure as speaker. That was all according to form.

Suspense In Senate

But in the Senate, an atmosphere of suspense and mystery built up before the question of party controls was settled.

The key figures were a couple of men who weren't there when the party caucuses were run off—Frank J. Lausche, Ohio Democrat, and Jacob K. Javits, New York Republican.

Something of a political independent and lone wolf, Lausche had talked of voting to help the Republicans organize the Senate, since there is a Republican in the White House.

The situation was such that one

Palestine Relief Funds Needed

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Jan. 3 (P)—The head of the U.N.'s Middle East relief agency warned today that care for nearly a million Palestine Arab refugees will be cut severely unless the U.N. acts urgently to raise more money.

The warning came from Henry R. Labouisse, director of the U.N. Relief and Works Agency, in a report written before the British, French and Israeli invasion of Egypt. The agency will submit a special report on the effects of the invasion, but Labouisse said that even in mid-1956 the situation was serious.

In another Middle Eastern development, the United States announced it is willing to advance up to five million dollars to the U.N. for salvage work in the Suez Canal.

The U.N. action was in response to word to all U.N. members from Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld that money must be raised to begin the work of clearing the canal.

Hammarskjöld and his financial advisor, John J. McCloy, have been in touch with several governments, most of them users of the canal, but the United States was the first to announce such a large advance for salvage work.

Refugee Airlift Of 9,700 Ends Without Mishap

MCGUIRE AIR FORCE BASE, N.J., Jan. 3 (P)—The Air Force wrote this today to the dramatic airlift of fleeing Hungarian refugees, with the chance another act might be added later.

The last plane, a hospital evacuation transport, landed here at 3:58 p.m. shortly after Lt. Gen. Joseph Smith, Military Air Transport Service Commander, announced the end of Operation Safe Haven.

Aboard were 35 Hungarians including nine litter cases. Five of these are expectant mothers. The plane was not the last to leave Europe but was delayed by snow in Newfoundland.

Thus ended the greatest airlift since the Berlin blockade.

Since it began Dec. 11 through instructions from the White House, 9,700 Hungarians were brought to this country by 110 MATS flights and 46 commercial planes chartered by MATS.

Not a single accident was reported.

Old folk and children, expectant mothers, wounded fighters, laborers, professional people—all were included.

The last refugee signed aboard a plane manifest was 11-month-old Peter Gergely, No. 9,700 to board the airlift.

Peter watched attentively as the big C118 Airmaster bearing him and 44 other Hungarians landed here in the chill morning wind. Then they were taken to nearby Camp Kilmer.

There may be more airlifts in the future. Both President Eisenhower and Congress have indicated that more refugees than the present 21,500 quota may be brought in. The Air Force said it could resume the airlift on short notice.

Meanwhile, the remainder to be brought in under the quota will sail on Army troop transports. The first vessel, the Gen. Leroy E. Ting, docked at Brooklyn, New York's day.

Drama Marks

vote could be mighty important, for the Democrats came out of the November election with a mere 49-47 edge in Senate seats.

If Lausche sided in with the Republicans on organization, that could give them 48 votes and a tie which Vice President Nixon could break in favor of the GOP. But there was another catch—the Republicans also needed the vote of Javits, who wanted to remain attorney general of New York State until his term expires in a few days. Javits didn't want a Democratic governor to name a Democrat in his place.

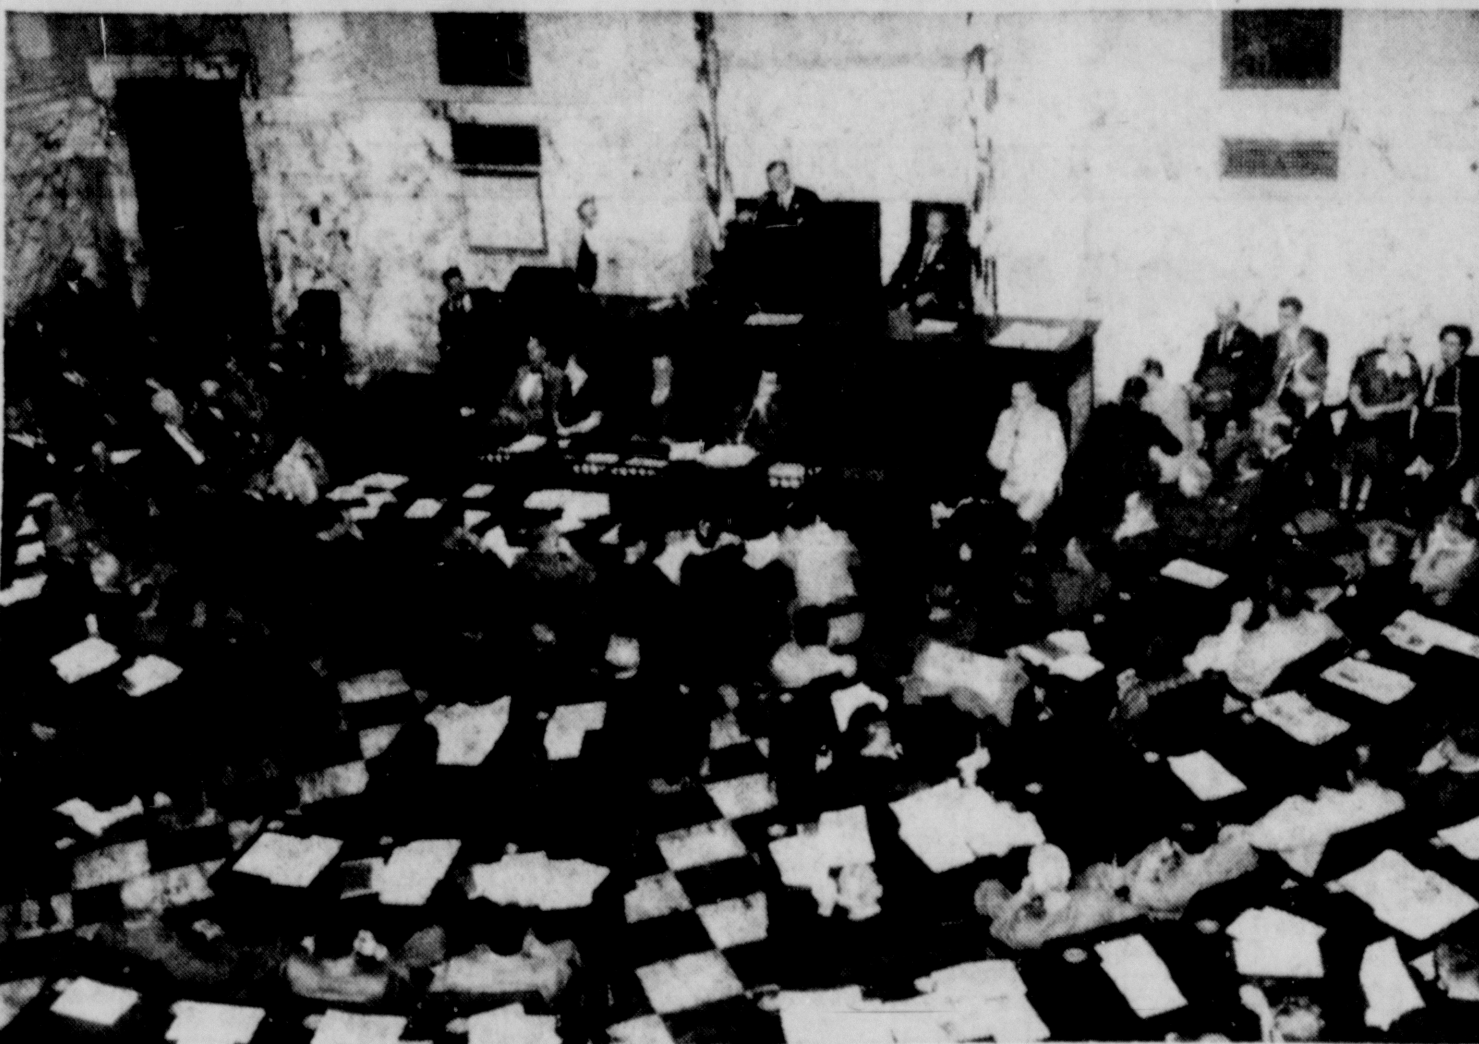

Against that background, Lausche boycotted the conference of Democratic senators this morning and kept them worried about which way his vote would go.

Knowledge added to the tension by saying the Republicans would attempt to organize the Senate "if we have 48 votes." Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) said Javits was available in Washington to rush in and take his oath of office and vote with the GOP if necessary.

One by one, Republicans went down the line for Bridges, Democrats for Hayden. The score was 27-27 when Lausche's name was called.

The graying, bushy-haired Ohioan, a red carnation blazing on the lapel of his dark suit, came through for the Democrats. And Democrats and the galleries came through with a round of applause for him.

In the end, the vote was 49-46, with only Javits, who never had made an appearance and never took his oath of office, unrecorded.

Turnbull May Enter Governor Race Next Year

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 3 (P)—John Grason Turnbull, state senator from Baltimore County, declared today, "I am very seriously considering running for governor in 1958."

He is the fourth Democrat to admit publicly he is harboring such ambitions. The others are H. C. Byrd, who was beaten two years ago by Gov. McKeldin, Comptroller Millard Taves and Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert.

Turnbull is one of many so-called young Turks in the Democratic party who have been getting together seeking ways to restore it as a winner in Maryland elections.

Turnbull, who is majority leader of the Senate, said he would "not precipitate any political fight that would hurt the Democratic party or the people of the state of Maryland."

By this, he said he meant that if his fellow politicians might decide he could strengthen a ticket by running for some office other than governor, such as U.S. Senator, he would consider it.

"I always stick with my friends," he said.

Turnbull emphasized that in revealing at this time his gubernatorial thinking he would not "allow that ambition to affect in any way my actions during this legislative session."

Kan. Governor Quits, Named To Court Post

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 3 (P)—Gov. Fred Hall resigned today and was appointed to the Kansas Supreme Court, the state's highest tribunal. It was a rapid-fire maneuver by three Republicans just 11 days before Hall was scheduled to surrender the governorship to Democrat George Docking.

Chief Justice William A. Smith, who has been in ill health, resigned to Hall. Hall then announced his own resignation, automatically elevating Lt. Gov. John McCuish to chief executive. As soon as McCuish was sworn in, he announced appointment of Hall to succeed Smith.

McCuish will serve as governor until Jan. 14. Hall will serve until the 1958 general election.

Steel Firms Defend Proposed Merger

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (P)—Bethlehem Steel Corp. and Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. today filed denials in Federal Court of the Justice Department's charge that the proposed merger of the two would violate anti-trust laws.

The two concerns also asked the court to dismiss the government's suit filed last Dec. 12.

The Justice Department, in seeking to block the merger, said it "may substantially lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly, in violation of section seven of the Clayton Act."

In separate answers, the companies said "there is not any substantial competition between Bethlehem and Youngstown in any section of the country."

Canadians Feel Strike Effects

MONTREAL, Que., Jan. 3 (P)—Scores of towns and hamlets tightened their belts today as a country-wide strike brought operations of the Canadian Pacific Railway to a stop.

For isolated communities depending upon Canadian Pacific service alone, a prolonged strike meant serious shortages of food, fuel and mail in midwinter. Some industries already had laid off men, though the most serious consequences would be several days in developing.

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, returning to his office in Ottawa after a holiday, met with his Cabinet to consider the situation created by the walkout which began at 4 p.m. yesterday.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen & Enginemen, called the strike by its 3,000 members in a dispute over a proposed gradual elimination of firemen from diesel engines on freights and in yards.

Soviets' Visit Called Off

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 3 (P)—The Danish government announced today the visit here of a Soviet parliamentary delegation headed by Premier Bulganin and party boss Nikita Khrushchev had been postponed indefinitely. No reason was given but political informants said Soviet intervention in Hungary prompted the Danes to call off the visit, scheduled for this spring.

Andrea Doria Probe Calls For Improved Standards

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (P)—Congressional investigators said today their study of the sinking of the Andrea Doria shows international shipbuilding standards are not high enough for safety.

They said also that information on the disaster raises "serious questions" as to whether the Andrea Doria and the Swedish ship Stockholm "were being operated in accordance with the precepts of good seamanship and the provisions of the International Convention for Safety of Life at Sea."

The Andrea Doria, an Italian luxury liner, sank off the Atlantic Coast after it and the Stockholm collided July 25.

"It is clear from this accident that the operation of the standards of the 1948 international convention do not meet their objectives," said specialists who made the investigation for the House Merchant Marine Committee.

"It is recommended that the United States propose international study and agreements looking to more effective standards for construction and operation."

The committee sent the report to Congress for study and also recommended that executive agencies concerned consider its recommendations.

The report itself disclaimed any intention of fixing responsibility for the tragedy that cost some 50 lives, but it said:

"If the ships had been following the recommended sealanes, the collision would not 'have happened, for the Stockholm was nearly on the westbound track and some 20 miles north of the recommended track for vessels east-bound to Europe.'"

However, the report noted that use of the sealanes, which have been planned and recommended since 1855, is not mandatory even on countries, which, like Italy and Sweden, signed the 1948 safety convention.

O'Connell, 50-year-old Republican, is vice president of the Public Ship Corp. of New York.

He succeeds Arthur Larson, who left the Labor Department recently to become chief of the United States Information Agency.

Eisenhower also chose Louis J. Hector, a lawyer of Miami, Fla., to be a member of the Civil Aeronautics Board for a six-year term.

Between 1951 and 1956, totaled a quarter billion dollars, were administered in a loose, slipshod and unbusinesslike manner.

"The so-called Expanded Technical Assistance Program which began in January 1952 and resulted in U.S. obligations of over 100 million in a five-year period was neither technical assistance nor economic development, but an ad hoc method of keeping the Iranian economy afloat during the years of the oil dispute."

(An ad hoc method is one designed for only one purpose.)

Baltimore Cop Found Innocent

BALTIMORE, Jan. 3 (P)—Park Patrolman George A. Savard today was found innocent by a Circuit Court jury which cleared him of assault charges brought by a Negro matron.

The jury deliberated one hour before announcing its verdict.

Savard was charged with assault on the basis of a 16-month-old complaint of Mrs. Anna Mae Nichols that a uniformed park policeman had separated her from a companion and had made improper advances to her after taking her into his patrol car the night of April 29, 1955.

Savard was indicted by the grand jury which also charged Park Police Capt. G. Gordon Gage with malfeasance in office. That charge is still pending because a jury which heard the trial last month deadlocked on a verdict.

The malfeasance charge was based on an investigation of Mrs. Nichols' complaint and the admitted fact that the suspected officer had not been put in a lineup which the woman viewed.

Drive To Extend West Va. Merit System Takes Form

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 3 (P)—A bipartisan effort to place much more of the West Virginia State government under a merit system of employment began to take shape today.

Senate and House Democrats, in majority caucuses next Wednesday, will be asked to invite Republican Gov.-elect Underwood to join in bipartisan sponsorship of such legislation.

The recommendation to the Democratic majorities will come from their joint steering committee, which met here yesterday and today to discuss the party's program for the session of the Legislature which convenes at noon next Wednesday. The caucuses will be held that morning.

After a brief session of the steering committee this morning, Senate President Ralph J. Bean (D-Hardy) and House Speaker W. E. Flannery (D-Logan), as representatives of the group, conferred at length with Underwood.

After the conference, Bean and Flannery made the announcement about the proposal to extend the merit system, a state version of civil service.

Underwood said he would consider the proposal, which was one of his election campaign pledges. Whether he joins in bipartisan sponsorship or offers a separate merit system proposal on his own after he takes office Jan. 14 will depend upon what kind of a bill the Democrats put forth, Underwood said.

Wall Street in New York got its name from the fact that it was built along the line of the wall built for protection by the early Dutch settlers.

Tydings' "Defeat" By Shingles In His Comeback Try Voted Top State Story

By CHARLES STAFFORD
Associated Press Staff Writer
"Shingles," a rather common, very painful malady, and the mess it made of Millard E. Tydings' hopes to regain the U.S. Senate seat he had lost six years earlier was Maryland's top news story of 1956.

Tydings' comeback attempt was voted No. 1 in an Associated Press poll of Maryland newspaper men and women to determine the 10 best Maryland news stories of 1956.

Following weeks of rumor and speculation, the Tydings story jelled last Feb. 21 when he filed at the last moment for the Democratic senatorial nomination. After a quiet campaign, he barely defeated Baltimore contractor George P. Mahoney in primary election balloting last May. Then Tydings was stricken with shingles. Last Aug. 19, the ex-Senator abandoned his comeback. The story ended in early September with the selection by State Democratic Committee members of Mahoney over Mrs. Tydings to substitute for the stricken candidate.

The runner-up to the Tydings story was a product of one of the hottest news days in Baltimore's history, a usually quiet Sunday.

A telephone call about the dinner hour last Jan. 29, a hasty banging of typewriter keys and the following bulletin flashed across the country:

"BALTIMORE, Jan. 29 (AP)—Fire broke out tonight at a hall on the south edge of Baltimore and firemen said 'many' of the estimated 1,000 persons attending an oyster roast were feared to have been trapped."

Four hours and thousands of words later, the Baltimore AP reported:

"BALTIMORE, Jan. 29 (AP)—Fire and panic raged through a church party south of here tonight, killing at least 11 of a milling, scrambling crowd of about 1,000 and bringing injury to some 227."

Later that same night, the emergency-swollen AP staff sent this story: "Baltimore buses and trolleys headed for their barns and parking lots at midnight as the 2,000 drivers went on strike today."

This was the beginning of a three-month-long newsmagazine which was climaxed by State seizure and operation of the Baltimore Transit Company. It included an unprecedented legislative "grand inquest" into the causes of the strike.

The transit strike was chosen as the No. 4 story of '56.

No. 5 also occurred that same January sabbath, H. L. Mencken's caustic "Sage of Baltimore" whose writings helped shape the pattern of American thought during the 1920s, died quietly in his sleep.

Inauspiciously, though nonetheless tragically, the third top story claimed a small spot on the AP wire last Nov. 15. A 130-word item said: "Food poisoning was blamed for the deaths today of two children and the hospitalization of seven others from the same family."

One week later—on Thanksgiving Day—the father of the children, William S. Kidwell, also died in a Hagerstown hospital. And an autopsy revealed that the children died of arsenic poisoning.

Interest in the stricken Kidwell family spiraled upward when arsenic was found in the family well. The story reached a climax Dec. 3 when 72-year-old William F. Knighton, arrested on a warrant charging him with poisoning the well, hanged himself in a jail cell at Charles Town, W. Va.

State Police said Knighton was angry at 13-year-old Molly Kidwell and had accused her of "showing affection for another."

The second half of the top 10 included:

6. Sen. John Marshall Butler's general election victory over Democrat George P. Mahoney and Butler's "1950 speech" in which he explained his side of the controversial election in which he defeated Tydings.

7. The discovery last June of the nude bodies of two slain girls in the Potomac River near Frederick.

8. The slaying of one teacher and wounding of two others by 14-year-old Billy Ray Prevatte in a bizarre shooting last May 4 at a Seat Pleasant junior high school.

9. The wreck with one dead and hundreds injured of the Pennsylvania Railroad's "Embassy" last March 23 near Ft. Meade.

10. The squabble between a rump licensing board of the State Homeopathic Medical Society and the State, and the issuance of medical licenses to unqualified persons.

Mine To Be Opened

HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 3 (AP)—The No. 4 shaft at Springhill which still holds 26 bodies of victims of a coal mine explosion last Nov. 1 will be opened soon, the government announced. The shaft was sealed after 88 miners were rescued from the gas-filled pit.

Now giant savings in every dept.

Md. Senate To Permit Live Radio, TV Coverage

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 3 (AP)—The Maryland Senate agreed with reservations today to permit live radio and television coverage of its proceedings.

Similar privileges had been extended yesterday by the House of Delegates.

Both houses thus for the first time on a regular basis will extend to radio and television newsmen the same privileges of the floor accorded for years to representatives of other news media.

The Senate showed reluctance to go along with the change in its rules, but finally voted 16-10 to do so. This was one vote more than needed for passage.

The main objections were voiced by two former Baltimore City Council members who warned of the "evil" of some member hogging the broadcast or telecast.

Sen. Joseph A. Bertorelli (D-Balto 1st) said council proceedings used to be aired at 6 p.m. each Monday. At that time, he said, one particular member would get up and take the floor, keep it for 20 minutes and nobody else could get in a word during the broadcast.

Sen. Philip H. Goodman (D-Balto 5th) raised similar objections.

"Definite controls should be established if you're going to permit such coverage," Bertorelli warned. Senate President Louis Goldstein assured him that the Senate Rules Committee would approve any requests for broadcasts or telecasts.

Bertorelli wound up casting one of the deciding votes for the rule change. Those voting against it included: Sens. Cole (D-Balto 4th), Dean (D-Queen Annes), Della (D-Balto 6th), Dempsey (D-Balto 3rd), Flanagan (R-Carroll), Friend (R-Garrett), Goodman, North (D-Talbot), Redden (D-Caroline) and Turnbull (D-Balto County), the majority floor leader.

Radio newsmen previously have been permitted to sit in on sessions as reporters, and there have been occasions where television stations filmed special proceedings.

The matter came to a head at the 1956 session of the General Assembly, when the House voted against permitting live radio and television coverage of its "grand inquest" into the Baltimore transit strike. This brought protests from radio and television groups and the House later modified its stand.

The Legislative Council, between sessions study arm of the Legislature, drew up the proposed rule changes which were adopted yesterday and today. There was no discussion of the matter in the House.

Road Review Board To Hold First Meeting

BALTIMORE, Jan. 3 (AP)—The newly appointed six-man State Highway Review Board will hold its first meeting tomorrow, the State Roads Commission announced.

The meeting will be in the SRC offices.

The board will examine the program the roads commission plans to present to the General Assembly.

Scheduled to attend the meeting are Gov. McKeldin, members of the review board, and roads commission.

Jewish Refugee Fund

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (AP)—Morris W. Bernstein, newly elected president of the United Jewish Appeal, has announced plans to raise a special emergency rescue fund of one hundred million dollars in 1957 to help resettle 100,000 Jewish refugees from Europe, North Africa and the Middle East. The refugees will be resettled in Israel and other free countries.

The first kindergarten was opened in 1840 in Blakenburg, Germany.

PSC Calls On BTC To Forfeit $2,500

BALTIMORE, Jan. 3 (AP) — The Public Service Commission wants the Baltimore Transit Co. to forfeit $2,500 for leaving crowds of riders stranded last Monday during the morning rush hour.

The company thought Monday was a holiday and cut back service. It said it added service when the error was discovered.

The PSC in Superior Court filed suit today for $2,500, charging the company failed to provide "adequate and reasonable" service.

The suit was filed under a provision of the law which says any public service company that fails to provide "safe, adequate, just and reasonable" service will be subject to a forfeiture of not more than $2,500 to the State.

The suit contends that as a result of the holiday schedule on a non-holiday "great inconvenience, annoyance and loss" was caused to "many thousands . . ."

County GOC Converted To Ready Reserve

The Board of Allegany County Commissioners Wednesday started off the new year with one of the slowest meetings in recent months.

Besides routine business there was only one communication, a letter from William G. Barger, director of Civil Defense for Allegany County.

Accompanying a list of expenses for Civil Defense during December was information from Barger noting that as of December 15, the Air Force converted the Ground Observer Corps program in the Pittsburgh Air Defense Filter Center area from a skywatch to a ready reserve status.

This means the GOC posts will be operated by volunteer observers for the Pittsburgh Filter Center only when alerted to do so.

Barger said this change is a result of increased warning facilities between this area and any possible hostile air attack.

These include the distant early warning line, Texas towers and airborne early warning.

Barger said there is still a need for volunteer observers in the event of an attack and for passing information on aircraft in distress and for severe weather warnings. The Air Force has indicated it will continue to recruit and train volunteers.

Barger said county Civil Defense officials plan to retain the buildings in this county in operating condition ready for instant use. He said the utilities have been shut off and all buildings locked.

Post supervisors, he added, will continue to hold periodic training sessions with their personnel to keep them abreast of latest developments.

Barger added that he personally feels that the change to ready reserve status indicates the GOC phase of Civil Defense has been very effective in the past.

3 Men Held In Larceny

Three area men have been arrested and warrants have been issued for two more in connection with the $3,000 metal larceny in Somerset County, Pa.

Pennsylvania State Police at Somerset said George Brabson, Grantsville, and John E. Sutton, 39, and Russell E. Sell, 26, both of Meyersdale, have been apprehended for alleged implication in the $3,000 robbery.

Police said Elmer Carder, Wellersburg, and his son, Melvin Carder, are in Allegany County Jail here.

The Carders were lodged in jail here as parole violators, but authorities said arrangements have been made to return them to Pennsylvania.

According to police the men are involved in the theft of copper and cable with an estimated value of $3,000 from an Enterprise Coal Company mine near Garrett. The mine, operated by Charles A. Merrill, is called Ponfeigh Number One.

State Police Troopers Paul W. Lutz and Thomas H. Sterner, who handled the investigation, said they were assisted by Clyde Fisher of the Meyersdale city police.

Sell was given a preliminary hearing last Saturday and entered a plea of guilty to two counts of larceny before Justice of the Peace O. Wayne Hay of Somerset. He posted $1,000 on each charge.

Sutton and Brabson pleaded guilty to three counts of larceny and were lodged in the Somerset County Jail in default of $2,500 bond each.

New Minister Assigned Here

Rev. J. C. Lanning, 38, has assumed his ministry at LaVale Baptist Church, succeeding Rev. so. Clifford F. Frith, who has taken another assignment.

Rev. Mr. Lanning's last pastorate was in Penn Memorial Baptist Church, Reidsville, N. C., where he served five years.

A native of Davidson, N. C., he attended Mars Hill, N. C., Junior College; Furman University, Greenville, S. C., and was graduated from Southwestern Baptist Seminary, Fort Worth, Texas.

He is married to the former Juanita Self, of Greensboro, N. C., who is a graduate of Greensboro College. She taught elementary school in Reidsville.

The couple has one son, Charles T. Lanning, four months.

CONSTIPATED?

new laxative discovery
un-locks bowel blocks
without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to stimulate it to contract and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

ONLY A BULK LAXATIVE can 1) re-moisten this dry, shrunken waste and 2) supply vital bulk to re-create a normal urge to purge. And, of all bulk laxatives, COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery is so effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions. IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT! Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! The price, only 98¢ for the economical 60 tablet package, brings you positive relief at less than 2¢ per tablet.

Boy Given 3 Shots Didn't Die Of Polio

SEATTLE, Jan. 3 (AP)—A Johns Hopkins authority reported today that polio, contrary to earlier diagnosis, did not cause the death of a Washington State boy who had received three Salk vaccine shots.

The death of James Thompson, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm P. Thompson of Mount Vernon, last Nov. 29 was described at the time as the first in the nation of a person with full vaccine protection.

Today's announcement was made by Dr. Bernard Bucove, state health director. The youth died in a Bellingham hospital. Dr. Bucove said tissue studies by Dr. David Bodian, director of the poliomyelitis laboratory at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, had determined young Thompson was afflicted with "acute disseminated encephalomyelitis."

It was described by Dr. Bodian as a rare disease which can easily be confused with bulbar polio unless tissues are examined.

W.Va. Apple Crop Dips Slightly

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 3 (AP)—Apple production in West Virginia dipped slightly last year compared with 1955.

The Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said production in 1956 totaled 4,050,000 bushels compared with 4,346,000 the previous year.

The service said that although frequent rains supplied enough water, at times they hindered spraying. Late spring freezes also reduced the crop.

Jonathan and Grimes Golden apples accounted for the largest harvest of fall apples. Winter varieties, however, led by York, Delicious and Stayman apples, accounted for 87 per cent of the total crop.

Grenade Kills One

ALGIER, Jan. 3 (AP)—A Nationalist terrorist hurled a grenade into a packed trolleybus tonight, killing one person and injuring 12 others. Among those injured were women and children.

The custom of sleeping on a piece of wedding cake has been traced back to the early Britons.

Horticulture Society Meets

HAGERSTOWN, Jan. 3 (AP)—The Maryland Horticulture Society opened a two-day meeting here today with some 250 apple growers present from Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

Truman H. Nold, executive secretary of the National Apple Institute, told the group between one-third and one-half of the people in the United States do not consider apples a part of their normal daily bill of fare.

He said the public got out of the habit of eating apples regularly back in the depression days when the fruit cost more than other foods.

He said it is up to the apple growers to educate the people on eating apples.

Movies showing "how wonderful apples are" have been made for showing to school children, Nold said, noting that babies and children represent the future of the apple industry as the consumers of the tomorrow.

The four-state group will elect officers tomorrow.

Norman J. Fike of Cordova is president of the society.

Net operating income totaled $77,600,000 and gross revenues

$418,700,000 vs. $389,900,000 and $380,281,000 in 1955. Chairman Cyrus S. Eaton and President Walter J. Tuohy said, "the year ahead looks excellent." They said U.S. coal shipments overseas are running at a peak rate of 55 million tons annually. C&O is heavily engaged in transporting coal from the fields to the seaports.

Budget Of Sewage Plant Submitted By Buchholtz

A prospective operational set-up of the city's new sewage treatment plant was submitted to the Mayor and Council yesterday in a letter from William H. Buchholtz, commissioner of streets and public property.

The commissioner's estimate of cost for annual operation was placed at approximately $90,000, the figure being almost equally divided between salaries for personnel and maintenance and supply costs.

Pointing out that the new plant will come under the jurisdiction of the Commissioner of Streets and Public Property, Buchholtz said his estimates were the result of a number of trips to area communities where similar types of sewage treatment plants are in operation. Accompanying him on these several trips were City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson and/or City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum and City Attorney Thomas B. Finnan.

The sewage treatment plant, which is expected to be put in operation around March 15, will need 13 persons to operate it on a 24-hour basis, Buchholtz estimated.

His letter also explained that equipment necessary to the operation of the plant will be purchased with money from the Sewage Disposal Plant Fund, inasmuch as he was informed by the city auditor that there will be sufficient amount in the fund to cover the needed items.

Buchholtz listed the items needed for the plant's operations and explained that he did so because the cost of the material was over and above the tentative budget figure.

The commissioner further explained that he will ask council for the necessary permission to purchase the equipment if any of it appears to run over $500. Otherwise, he continued, he will proceed to make the purchases at the earliest convenience.

Buchholtz also brought out that a debt service is to be taken into consideration, adding that he felt this was a matter for the consideration of John J. Long, commissioner of finance and revenue, and City Auditor Gibson.

In a separate letter he asked Commissioner Long to bring this matter to the attention of council so that an ordinance setting a sewer charge based on water consumption could be prepared.

The letter to Long, in part, follows:

"Attached is your copy of my communication to the Council giving them the details covering the annual cost figures for setting up the new sewage treatment plant. The things outlined in my letter most naturally concern this department, which I direct, however I feel that the debt service, including the attached figures, is a matter concerning your department.

"Therefore, I will appreciate your getting together with Mr. Gibson and working out a rate schedule sufficient to cover the attached items, plus the debt service, so that I may feel safe in proceeding as quickly as possible with this training program that I feel is very essential to the operation of this plant."

In explaining his proposed training schedule, Buchholtz said he favored personnel being given from 45 to 60 days training by the city's consulting engineer firm, Robert T. Register and Associates. He continued that he had a number of applications on file and had been interviewing the persons.

Buchholtz stated that he wanted to inform the council that he expects to present part, if not all, of the appointments for council action within the next two weeks. He concluded his letter by stating that he believed the council members should not hesitate in setting up the proper ordinance or ordinances for the new department once the percentage charges have been prepared by the city auditor and Commissioner Long.

Rate Case Will Be Tried In Hagerstown Court

Chief Judge George Henderson of the Fourth Judicial Circuit will sit with Associate Judge D.K. McLaughlin in Washington County Circuit Court today in a case that will prove interesting from various angles for Allegany countians.

The case involves the appeal of the City of Hagerstown from a ruling handed down by the Maryland Public Service Commission concerning the city's rates for water sold to consumers living outside the corporate limits.

Up to a year ago, Hagerstown's water rate for consumers inside the city was 30 cents for the first 1,000 gallons with a proportionate decrease for additional gallons.

The rate for those living outside the corporate limits was 36 cents for the first 1,000 gallons, and a proportionate decrease for additional consumption.

Then about a year ago the Hagerstown officials jumped the outside rate from 36 cents to 60 cents for the first 1,000 gallons.

Protests were made by the Washington County Commissioners and some municipalities using Hagerstown city water, including Williamsport, Smithsburg and

The protests were made to the Public Service Commission which heard the case and concluded that an increase was proper, but only to 43 cents for the first 1,000 gallons.

Subsequently the City of Hagerstown appealed this Public Service Commission decision to Washington County Circuit Court.

In this county, the Mayor and Council of Cumberland and the Board of Allegany County Commissioners are appealing the recent decision of the Public Service Commission that granted the C&A Gas Company its third rate increase in three years.

The appeal is to be filed in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Pa. Man Faces Charges For Evading Toll Cost

A New Kensington, Pa., man tried to save himself 95 cents in toll charges at the expense of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission and as a result is in a lot of trouble with authorities.

Edward Reed Cribbs, 21, was apprehended here Tuesday by Tfc. Charles DeWitt of the Maryland State Police after a wild auto chase by four police departments over a distance of more than 50 miles.

Trooper DeWitt nabbed the man on U. S. Route 40 east of Cumberland.

Wednesday afternoon Sgt. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the Maryland State Police, took the man before Chief Judge George Henderson where he waived extradition and was turned over to Pennsylvania State Police.

State Police at Bedford said the chase across two states started when Cribbs "ran" through the tollgate at the Bedford Interchange after waiting until the "coast was clear." Authorities said he apparently had got on the Turnpike at Allegheny Valley Interchange near his home.

As Cribbs ran the tollgate, attendants radioed State Police. Some 30 minutes later Trooper Chester Rowan of the Bedford County detail spotted the man on Route 220 north of Bedford.

Trooper Rowan notified Bedford City Police and gave chase. Officer Charles Bingham stationed himself at the Pitt-Richard intersection in Bedford and flagged Cribbs, but the man ignored the Bedford officer, cut through traffic and headed out of town south on Route 220.

Officer Bingham gave chase, but lost Cribbs outside of Bedford.

Twenty minutes later, Pennsylvania State Police received a call from Alvin Nave, service station operator in Centerville, reporting the theft of gasoline.

Nave told authorities that a man driving a car which matched the description of

Trucks Begin Hauling Mail To Elkins

Mail for points between Cumberland and Elkins, which had formerly been carried by Western Maryland Railway passenger trains, is now being transported by truck.

John B. Wolfhope, superintendent of mails at the local Post Office, said the mail truck will leave Cumberland each afternoon at 2 o'clock for Elkins.

En route the truck will drop off parcels and letters at Cresap-town, Keyser, Elk Garden, Mt. Storm, Gorman, Bayard, Wilson, Thomas, Hambleton, Hendricks, Parsons, Montrose and Elkins.

The truck will travel 116 miles each way with service daily except Sunday. There will be no trips on eight holidays during the year.

The mail truck from Elkins to Cumberland will leave the West Virginia city at 7 a.m.

The mail being hauled by truck was formerly transported by a daily train from Elkins to this city and one each day from here to the West Virginia point.

Wolfhope said that various intermediate points which the train serviced but which the mail truck will not visit will get mail through transfer from the nearest point.

Cribbs' pulled into his station, secured 14 gallons of gasoline, and then asked for a Maryland road map. While Nave was inside getting the map, the car pulled out heading toward Cumberland.

Pennsylvania State Police immediately notified Maryland State Police and Cumberland City Police to set up a road block.

After chasing Cribbs over several roads in this area, Tfc. DeWitt finally apprehended the man on Route 40 at the foot of Long Hill.

Police here dropped speeding charges against the man, and turned him over to Pennsylvania authorities. He was charged with larceny in the gasoline theft, reckless driving, speeding, and will also face the Turnpike Commission for failure to pay toll.

Cribbs was given a preliminary hearing in Bedford yesterday and was ordered held for action of the February grand jury.

Personal property schedules for 1957 were mailed out Wednesday afternoon by the Office of Assessments of Allegany County.

Schedules are to be filed and returned to Post Office Box 343, city. Somerville Nicholson, supervisor of assessments, said 3,500 schedules have been sent out to business firms, farmers, and professional people.

David E. Kirk, assessor, has been assigned to handle personal property. The failure to receive a schedule does not excuse a person in business of any kind, or a farmer, from filing.

Possible State Armory Sites Are Inspected

State and city officials yesterday inspected a number of sites which have been suggested as locations for the new National Guard Armory here.

Mayor Roy W. Eves said the inspection was made by Major General Milton A. Reckord, adjutant general of Maryland, and members of his staff.

Accompanying them were Mayor Eves, City Attorney Thomas B. Finan and City Engineer C. R. Nuzum.

Mayor Eves said General Reckord reported the Military Department would go back to Baltimore and discuss the possible locations.

He added General Reckord said he will notify the city as soon as a decision is reached on the location.

The site must be furnished by the City of Cumberland and a number of locations, including Constitution Park, have been discussed.

The matter was discussed by the Mayor and Council on Wednesday, when Mayor Eves pointed out the state is anxious to get started on the new armory before it loses its appropriation. The armory is expected to cost about $200,000.

Local Airman Dies In Crash

A 21-year-old local Air Force man was fatally injured in an automobile accident on New Year's Day in California.

Victim of the accident was Airman 1/c William Arthur Jones, son of Ira S. and Hazel O. (Cox) Jones, rear of 226 Emily Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones were notified Wednesday that their son was killed in an auto accident near the Edwards Air Force Base at Edwards, Calif. Details of the accident are not known.

A native of Fairmont, W. Va., he was a member of First Christian Church here.

Jones enlisted in the Air Force on August 20, 1952, at the age of 17. He was discharged in August 1956 and re-enlisted here last September 5.

He was employed at the Glenn L. Martin plant in Baltimore before joining the Air Force.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Audrey Kinsman, Ridgeley, and three brothers, Donald C. Jones, Hamersburg; Staff Sgt. Ronald E. Jones, stationed with the Air Force in England, and Airman 2/c Daniel L. Jones, stationed with the Air Force at Guam.

McKeldin Seeks

The bill will accompany the budget which McKeldin will submit by Jan. 21.

There is a strong feeling within the Legislature to give school teachers a raise. The teachers are going to ask for $800 more a year. But McKeldin is not expected to make any offer.

"If the counties think the teacher salaries should be increased, we suggest that they use their tobacco tax money for that purpose," the governor said.

He said the tobacco tax, which would raise an estimated $9,600,000 for political subdivisions less their share of collection costs, "should eliminate any necessity for increasing basic salaries provided from state funds."

Ike's Plan Would Require Unanimity

The Administration's plan for specific Congressional authority to act in a Middle East emergency — sometimes called the "Eisenhower Doctrine" — will have to have wide support in the Legislative Branch to prove effective. Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D Tex.) said Tuesday: "I don't think it would be useful unless it had a practical unanimity of acceptance in Congress." Rep. Dewey Short (R Mo.), who although defeated in 1956 attended the White House legislative conference, described the request as similar to the one the President made in 1955 in asking for authority to use U. S. troops in defense of Formosa. The unanimity of Congress in the 1955 mandate was perhaps the determining element in its success.

President Eisenhower in a special message of January 24, 1955 emphasized the key position of the small Chinese Nationalist-held offshore islands in defense of Formosa. The President said that he had authority as Commander in Chief to take some of the steps he might deem necessary there. But he felt that a suitable Congressional resolution would "make clear the unified and serious intentions of our Government, by our Congress and our people."

A possible major difference between the 1955 Defend Formosa resolution and the one now being asked is that, according to Rep. Short, any U. S. use of force would be conditioned upon a request for assistance by a victim of aggression in the Middle East. In 1955, three days after his special Formosa message, the President said that he alone would make the decision when to use U. S. force in the Formosa area. That was to allay suspicions that Chiang Kai-shek might be able to involve this country in war.

Worsening relations between Israel and the Arab states early last spring raised the possibility that the President would ask authority to use troops in the Middle East. President Eisenhower said on April 4 that he would "never be guilty of action that can be interpreted as war until the Congress, which has the constitutional authority, says so."

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Middle East

Whereas the new Eisenhower Policy of intervention in the Middle East is probably the best that could be formulated at this time, the question must be asked why, if the United States in the end would have to assume the full burden of responsibility for the Middle East, was it necessary to push the British and the French out of that area.

The realistic answer undoubtedly is that our policy-makers believed that whereas Great Britain and France were unpopular as imperialistic countries, the United Nations could impede the enormous progress that Soviet Russia was making through its Egyptian agent, Nasser. Thus the British and the French were forced out of Egypt by the decision of the United States but that, in no measure, stopped the Russian advance.

Nor did the United Nations organization display any major capacity either in Egypt or in Hungary to arrest Soviet aggression. In Hungary, the United Nations collapsed altogether even suspending or dissolving or abandoning its commission of observers. In Egypt, the token force which separates Egypt from Israel has been unable to stop raids by the fedayeen bandits; the clearing of the Suez Canal moves slowly and Soviet Russia makes marked progress in Egypt and Syria.

The sacrifice of Great Britain and France to the policy of using the United Nations in a capacity for which it is not ready and to support a Russian agent in the hope of winning him over, has proved to be costly to the United States. Unfortunately, these futile moves gained a measure of popularity at the time they were committed, first, because they were done by order of Eisenhower; secondly, because numerous persons still believe that it is fun to twist the British lion's tail; and thirdly, because those who are so conditioned disliked to witness the conquest of Egypt by Israel which Moshe Dayan's army could easily have done.

There was another reason, probably a more important one than has been mentioned. It is that emotionally the whole American people are opposed to war. They have had enough war. They have consciously or subconsciously reached the conclusion that World War II was a tragic error; that the Korean War was futile and that the next war will be disastrous.

On the other hand, in a few short months, two historic phenomena have become clarified: one, that Soviet Russia is not invincible as has been proved beyond doubt by the heroism of the Hungarian people; secondly, that Soviet Russia desires no peace, will push into any area where there is a power vacuum, and that the Middle East has become the current danger zone.

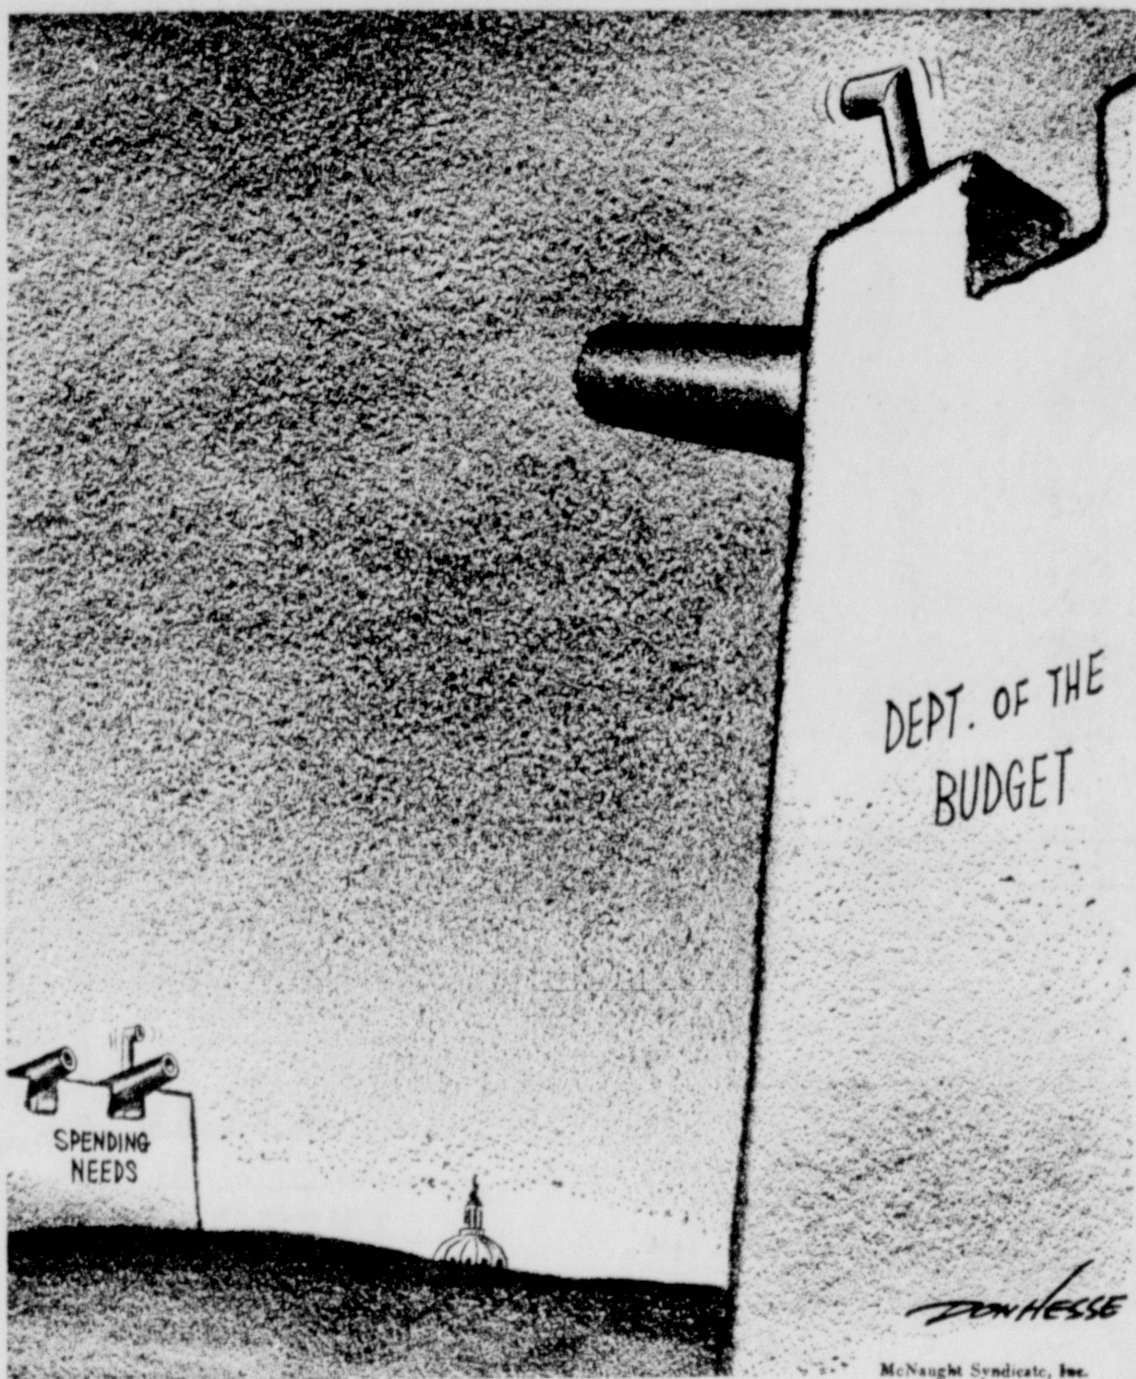

This being so, President Eisenhower has formulated a new policy which no matter how it is sugar-coated to be somewhat diplomatic, puts the United States in the Middle East on a war basis. It is not necessary for all the Arab countries to accept our armed assistance. Even if only one country accepts it, we shall be in that area in full force. Iraq will undoubtedly accept our aid; Iran will seek it; Israel will desire it. And the Suez Canal will have to be opened to world trade under international supervision or Nasser will be dealing with something stronger and more shapely than the United Nations mixed police force of embarrassed token contingents.

This is what the President's new policy means and it is a reaction as much to the Hungarian and the Polish situations as to that in the Middle East because when an empire put together by force cannot exercise sufficient force to hold its periphery, it is beginning to break up. That is the time to hit it and that is what the President is clearly doing. He has, in the new, indirect manner which controls diplomatic action, presented Soviet Russia with an ultimatum which, if it rejects it, will involve its satellites and agents in a war.

Curious, that this should have happened so soon after Nehru's visit. The Kashmir merchant seems not to have done too well at Gettysburg where, it was presumed, he would do the snake-charming act. Or, maybe, he did not try too hard. Maybe he discovered that Ike was not a pushover and has, despite tranquilizers, a very bad temper. Who knows? We may never know except as actions and decisions disclose the atmosphere.

Cocked And Primed

Ike's Mid-East Plan Merely A Shift Of Emphasis

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

There is an old military maxim: "If you don't know what to do, do something." It is a good rule, because in a time of danger, doing something is almost always better than doing nothing. By the same token, the Administration's double-barrelled plan for dealing with the Middle Eastern crisis is a great deal better than nothing. But the plan has been widely hailed both as a potential solution for the crisis, and as a bold new departure like the "Truman Doctrine" or the Marshall Plan. In fact, it is nothing of the sort.

The plan has two parts. Congress will be asked to authorize the President in advance to oppose with force a Soviet aggression in the Middle East. At the same time, the Middle Eastern countries are to get "special attention" within the framework of a foreign aid bill somewhat smaller than the Administration requested last year.

The request for standby authority is really hardly more than a re-statement of the obvious. The United States is already legally committed to defend Greece and Turkey against Soviet aggression, and morally committed to defend Iran and Pakistan. Soviet forces would have to pass through or over these countries to attack other Middle Eastern countries.

Azerbaijan and America

No-one seriously believes that the Soviets intend to launch a parachute attack on, say, Iraq, or that the United States would look the other way if they did. In fact, it has been clear ever since the Azerbaijan crisis in 1946 that overt aggression by the Soviets in the Middle East would invite American intervention and a third world war.

It is really clear that there is nothing really new about the second part of the plan. Under the current foreign aid program, the Administration asked for more than $300 million for the Middle Eastern countries. The Administration may ask for $50 million or even $100 million more this year. But this is not a bold new program. It is a change of emphasis in an existing program—no doubt a desirable change of emphasis, but no more than that.

In fact, the real danger in the Middle East springs neither from lack of dollar aid nor from the threat of overt Soviet aggression. The oil producing countries, Iraq and Saudi Arabia notably, have dollars coming out of their ears. Syria has refused dollar aid already, on political grounds.

Egypt's Colonel Nasser is regarded with good reason by the British and French as their mortal enemy. If he is now rewarded with generous helpings of American dollars, without firm commitments in return, the strained Western Alliance will endure another heavy blow.

As for the military threat, it is indirect rather than overt. On Monday, Frank Kelley, able foreign correspondent for the New York Herald Tribune, reported that the Soviet and Syrian governments have reached a firm agreement. The agreement provides not only for the continuing supply of Soviet arms to Syria, but for placing Soviet technicians actual-

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Always figured those arguments between Tito and Stalin sounded like Weber and Fields at the protocol level.

Tito got away with more than a six-fingered dip in the subway. He played both ends against the middle like a hoop snake with sugar on its tail.

Now Tito and the Kremlin are having it hotter and heavier than corn bread in Georgia. Every time Moscow tries to roll up the ball of twine Tito lets out another kite.

Take a gander at the map and you'll spot that Yugoslavia is as vulnerable as skin in a scratching contest.

That doesn't stop Tito from sounding off like an idiot on a piccolo. And all the time he figured to cook like a lizard in a prairie fire.

That didn't prevent us from supplying him with wall-to-wall, bear traps and ammo. He either has a charmed life insurance policy or he was born with the brass ring in his mouth.

Our guesswork is those arguments as phony as the apple blossoms in Peer Gynt.

Tito may not be playing ball with the Kremlin. But he sure is in the two o'clock infidel.

Staphylococci Still Major Cause Of Infection

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Streptococci were greatly feared 25 years ago. These germs were responsible for scarlet fever and erysipelas and played a secondary role in rheumatic fever and Bright's disease. The strep throat usually laid out the victim for several days with high fever, weakness, malaise, and difficulty in swallowing and talking.

In addition, there were complications galore, including pneumonia, sinus trouble, ear infections, and mastoiditis. Then streptococci were dethroned by the antibiotics such as penicillin and erythromycin.

Meanwhile, staphylococci also came up against the wonder drugs but the stronger members of this clan were able to acquire resistance to the antibiotics.

These resistant organisms multiplied and begot offspring with the same capacity to withstand the medication. As a result, staphylococcal infections are fast becoming the most troublesome of bacterial invasions.

Is this new staphylococcus as bad an actor as his ancestors of a quarter century ago? Some authorities doubt it and blame the apparent virulence of the organisms on lack of resistance in our general population. Many persons are surviving diseases that previously were fatal, which leaves them less able to cope with bacterial invasions.

This includes the insulin treated diabetic, children who have had the spleen removed for various blood disorders, and adults who have had part of the stomach or lungs removed.

The use of other drugs such as the anti-coagulants, anti-histamines, cortisone, and ACTH also affects resistance to staphylococci. This may explain why more and more pneumonias are being traced to staphylococci. The same can be said of intestinal disorders, wound infections, and blood poisoning.

An English survey showed that many of the hospital personnel harbor these organisms in the mouth, nose, and throat. These carriers spew the germs into the air whenever they breathe, cough, sneeze, or talk. In consequence, staphylococci are found everywhere, including on the skin, and they fly to the floor from the clothing while undressing.

Ike Could Get Harry Truman's Help On His Peace Plan For Near East

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower has not had too happy a reaction from Congressional leaders to his package plan for guaranteeing peace and building up the Near East. Actually his plan is one of the most important and constructive he has ever proposed. And here is a suggestion by which he could get more Democratic support.

Ike's best potential ally for his package peace plan is a man Ike bitterly dislikes—Harry Truman. It so happens that Truman worked on the same package peace plan when he was in the White House. Much of Eisenhower's plan is identical with Truman's. Truman still believes sincerely that this is the way to prevent war, and if the President asked him to, Harry would doubtless throw his usual energy and enthusiasm toward putting it across.

Visiting with Mr. Truman in his Kansas City office last February, I asked him what he thought were the dangers of war. He replied:

"There is one great danger—down here in this corner of the Mediterranean." He pointed to Suez. This incidentally, was nine months before fighting started in Suez.

"The Russians are after this 400,000,000 barrels of oil—down here in Arabia. That's why they've given arms to Egypt."

"But," continued Mr. Truman, "we could have outmaneuvered the Russians with my development plan."

Canal To Dead Sea

When I asked for details, the ex-President became really enthusiastic. "First," he said, "I would siphon water from the Mediterranean into the Dead Sea. The Dead Sea is 1,300 feet lower than the Mediterranean, and I'd dig a canal between them. The rush of water dropping 1,300 feet would supply electric power for all the industries you needed."

"I would make Israel the industrial country of the Near East, then let the Arabs raise crops to feed Israel and themselves. They're cousins. They don't have to fight. They're all Semitic peoples."

He pointed to the globe. "Over here, Iraq," he said, "was once a Garden of Eden—before Tamerlane and his Mongol hordes swept in and destroyed the irrigation system of the Tigris and the Euphrates. We could rebuild it. It would pay for itself in a few years. We could make this one of the bread-baskets of the Near East."

"So, with Israel supplying the industry and Iraq supplying the food, you bring a sound economy and cooperation and peace back to this part of the world. That's the way to prevent war."

Put Panama Under UN

"There are all sorts of opportunities in the world to build for peace," Mr. Truman reminisced, as if he missed the opportunities he once had. "I made some surveys when I was in the White House. I made a proposal to internationalize the Danube—make a great seaway from the Baltic down to the Black Sea—put it under the United Nations as a stabilizer for peace."

"I would have done the same thing with the Suez Canal—and with the Panama Canal. Put them under the United Nations." He was talking to me on February 19. Nasser seized the Suez on July 26. "That's the way peace is built—showing how people can work together."

Mr. Truman's voice had the enthusiasm, the vibrant quality of a man whose most important work was unfinished. Some of the things he discussed are identical with Mr. Eisenhower's current plans for a half-billion construction-irrigation aid program in the Near East.

I am certain from the way he talks that he would pitch in, put his shoulder to the wheel, and urge Democratic support for the current plan if Ike asked him to.

In this case, our foreign affairs could get back to some semblance of the now long-forgotten bipartisan policy.

Ike-Truman Feud

Eisenhower, however, will have to ask him personally. Mr. Truman feels quite bitter over the manner in which he has never been asked to call at the White House since he left it on Jan. 20, 1953.

"One of the first things I did when I became President," he once told me, "was to invite Herbert Hoover in. I want you to consider this your second home whenever you come to Washington," I said. I gave him a car, appointed him Food Advisor, and later put him in charge of reorganizing the government.

"But," he added, "I have never been invited back."

NOTE—First indication of a breach between Eisenhower and Truman occurred when the President-elect drove up to the White House on Jan. 20, 1953, to pick up President Truman for the customary drive together up to the Capitol. Eisenhower did not get out of the car and enter the White House to greet Mr. Truman who was waiting for him inside. Instead he sat in the car. Truman told friends that to save embarrassment he finally went outside and got in the car. Relations have been strained ever since.

Washington Pipeline

Steven Spingarn is No. 1 in line to become deputy chairman of the Democratic National Committee. . . . Congressman Burr Harrison (D-Va.) who took a post-election trip to Europe to study tariffs for the House Ways and Means Committee, was so conscientious about spending taxpayers' money that he turned back 25,000 French francs in counterpart funds. Harrison even left his wife at home. (He has his eyes on the Virginia governorship and wanted to stay in right with Senator Harry Byrd, the great economist). . . . Tennessee's careful Senator Gore has demanded that Ike fire Ambassador Karl Rankin, who has been U. S. envoy on Formosa for the last six years. He also wants to fire top Army-Navy aides in the American Embassy. Gore, when visiting Formosa, was shocked to find Ambassador Rankin is deducing Chiang Kai-Shek into believing the United States will support an all-out attack on the Chinese Communist mainland. Rankin has been on Formosa so long, Gore believes, that he's lost objectivity and is so fanatically pro-Chiang Kai-Shek that he'll get us into trouble unless transferred.

I note a discussion of the possibility of "a revival of the popularity of the name Fanny." When was the name Fanny popular? Was before my time. I never knew a girl named Fanny. Only feminine celebrity of that name I have heard of was Fanny Davenport, the actress. And she was born in 1850. Fanny's folks had an unusual taste in names. Her full name was Fanny Lily Gypsy Davenport.

Anita Ekberg's tendency to indulge in tiresome, temperamental tirades appears to have alienated the affections of the British press and public. In London, Anita has been referred to as "the bore with a bust."

SIDELIGHTS

Have you a friend or acquaintance named Campbell? Does he know that the Duke of Argyll, head of the Clan Campbell, had his new kilt made in Paris? . . . In Paris there is a school for strip-tease dancers. It is called "Academie Pour Le Strip Tease." The French figure it takes a minimum of one year's instruction to make an artistic strip-tease dancer.

HORSES AND WOMEN

Women born under Scorpio are the "oomph girls of the Zodiac." They have a personal magnetism that is almost hypnotic in its power. Or, so say the stargazers. They may be in possession of something there. Linda Christian was born under Scorpio. At the present time six millionaires are trying to win Linda's heart and hand. All have proposed. Linda is thinking the situation over. It seems she has a strong desire to try marrying for love with a definite disregard for the man's financial standing.

FAVORITE

The recording I am playing most now is that of "My Fair Lady." A remarkable disc. Speaking of "My Fair Lady" inspires the question as to who has what it takes to replace the brilliant Rex Harrison in that show during his three-month absence in Hollywood. How about Peter Lawford?

DISCUSSION

Should it be illegal for a woman to give birth to a child without medical aid of any kind? A Brooklyn couple, discussing that question, ask my opinion. I believe it should be illegal. The life of a child is at stake. In some countries it is considered life begins at the date of conception. So a living human being is to be considered. Expert assistance should be mandatory. Incidentally, a Florida woman has successfully given birth to seven children without medical aid of any kind. Nor with anybody present at the birth but herself. She has a method of her own. She says that in all seven births she has only experienced an average of "thirty seconds of discomfort."

PASSING BY

Frankie Laine. Clever and conscientious crooner. The charming red-haired young woman with him is his wife Nan. As Nan Gray, she was one of the featured players in the film titled "Three Smart Girls." Frankie is at the moment Great Britain's most popular singing recording artist. His disc of "Woman In Love" leads the best seller list over there. Second on same list is Johnnie Ray's recording of "Just Walkin' In The Rain." Third is "Hound Dog" as sung by Elvis Presley.

RETIREMENT

Too many men are letting the old rocking chair get them when they pass the age of 60. For a man with an active mind, retirement is almost a disease. It is a life shortener. Many men are still in their best stride from a business standpoint when they pass 60. Take P. T. Barnum. He was 61 when he organized the circus that was to become known as "The Greatest Show On Earth."

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

Ernest Cuneo, in his "Life with Fiorello," tells about the day a righteous New York alderman protested that ladies of the evening were being allowed to collect city relief funds. Mayor La Guardia thundered, "I thought this was a question settled 2,000 years ago, but I see I was wrong. Sergeant-at-Arms, clear the room so this big bum can throw the first stone!"

Cyrus McCormick, farm machinery tycoon, strode out of his church one Sunday and button-holed the gentle soul who had come many miles to deliver a sermon. "In this church," thundered Mr. McCormick, "we never refer to the Grim Reaper. We prefer the International Harvester."

The visiting minister never knew whether Multimillionaire McCormick was joking or not.

CONGRESS LEADERS MEET WITH IKE

LEADERS OF THE 85th CONGRESS chat outside the White House in Washington, where they met with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles concerning Middle East foreign policy. The President asked Republican and Democratic support of a declaration "serving notice that the United States will resist any Communist aggression" in the area. Shown (l. to r.) are: Sen. William F. ## Canned Corn Saves Half Billion Hours

Did you know that canned corn saves American women almost a half billion hours' kitchen work a year? It may seem incredible, but using home kitchen methods, an expert home economist has calculated it would take more than 60.5 million eight-hour days to can the quantity of corn that canners pack commercially each year. The average amount of corn packed and consumed during the past five years was about 825 million pounds annually, and this year the total will be even higher because of the record corn crop, the National Canners Association reports.

The canning industry is able to accomplish this staggering task in a very short time because of the efficiency with which it operates and the machinery at its disposal. Every can of corn is sealed into a can within hours after it leaves the cornstalk, thus guaranteeing the ultimate consumer maximum nourishment and flavor when the can is opened. Its not done with mirrors, but like this:

Farmers Plant in Installments

At planting time, farmers who raise corn for canners plant their seeds on the installment plan so that the fields will ripen a few at a time. This arrangement extends the canning season and not only keeps more people employed at the cannery but make it possible to pick and process the corn in each field at its best. The planting, the cultivating, the spraying and the harvesting are all done by machine. Corn goes from the field to cannery by truck, and most canneries deliberately locate near the fields to make the transportation job easier and cut down on time.

All operations at the corn canning factory are mechanical. Specially designed machines husk the corn and cut kernels from the cob. Washing the corn and filling it into cans are automatically managed. What would take minutes in the home kitchen is done in seconds at the cannery, and on a large scale.

All this efficiency saves not only time but money. Canned corn remains stable in price even at a time of rising food costs because every economy has been effected in the course of raising and growing it. Mechanical planting means a big saving on seed; mechanical spraying means a bigger, finer yield per acre, and all the other mechanical operations save labor and therefore both time and money. Your can-

Curried Turkey Over Rice Mounds

(Four servings)

The basis of this dish is a good cream sauce, but instead of using milk, substitute for one half the milk the strong, clear stock made from the turkey bones. This gives the sauce a professional touch and more flavor.

4 tbsp. butter; 4 tbsp. flour; 1 tsp. curry powder; 1/2 tsp. salt; 1/16 tsp. paprika, few grains cayenne; 1 cup turkey stock; 1 cup milk; 1 or more cups cut up turkey; sliced ripe olives; pimiento cut or button mushrooms.

Mix butter, flour and seasoning into soft paste, have cup of stock heated on top burner and milk warmed. Add stock to paste in saucepan, heat and smooth out all lumps, add milk, stirring constantly, cook gently on top burner of your gas range until sauce is thick. Add sliced ripe olives and pimiento cut in small pieces, but if neither of these is available, slice one small can of button mushrooms.

Add turkey cut in pieces and serve over mounds of cooked rice, which you have prepared on another top burner. For those who like it, add 1/4 cup sherry to the turkey mixture just before serving. This dish may be poured over toast points instead of rice, which is traditional with curries. With this, a tossed salad and a Have dishes of chutney, dried simple French dressing.

Coffee Parties To Launch March Of Dimes Drive

OAKLAND — Mrs. Wilbur Close, chairman of the Mothers March in the annual March of Dimes campaign, Mrs. Dan Hershberger, Grantsville; Mrs. Ralph Swauger, Friendsville; and Miss Elaine Falkenstein, Northern High School instructor, have been invited to Annapolis to attend a party given by Mrs. Theodore R. McKeldin at the Governor's mansion.

The party, to which 161 Maryland women are invited will be held January 8. It is intended to outline to these guests, the importance of reaching the quota in the 1957 March of Dimes. The program of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will be outlined.

The party stems from a promotional idea sponsored through governors' wives in each of the 48 states. A prominent manufacturer has presented to the wife of each governor a gold plated coffee pot, with the request that each sponsor a coffee party for the women leaders in the March of Dimes.

Former US Senator George L. Radcliffe, general chairman of the campaign in Maryland, received and presented the gold coffee pot to Mrs. McKeldin. She immediately began plans for the coffee party.

At the party, Mrs. McKeldin will ask each guest to return home, invite ten acquaintances to a similar party at which each person will be invited to contribute to the 1957 March of Dimes and also arrange similar parties among their own acquaintances.

Mrs. Close said, as the Garrett County campaign got underway this week, that the idea seems like an excellent one, and will be used as one of the promotional features of the fund drive in Garrett County.

Reforestation Program Is Underway In Upper Monongahela Valley, W. Va.

State Nursery At Parsons Begins Distribution Of Seedlings

PARSONS, W. Va. — About 1,000 acres of land in the Upper Monongahela Valley are being reforested with trees from the Parsons State Forest Nursery where production and distribution has climbed to 5,529,700 seedlings this fiscal year. This total includes 500,000 game food plants. The annual sustained productive capacity of the State Nursery has been boosted to six million seedlings.

Not counting Taylor County, fall shipments of tree seedlings to nine of the 10 counties in the Upper Monongahela Valley Association totaled 266,150 while spring shipments of 1,322,100 are expected. H. G. Woodrum, Parsons nursery superintendent for the Conservation Commission of West Virginia, stated.

The breakdown of tree shipments show: Barbour, 9,200 fall and 210,950 spring; Harrison, 85,550 fall and 165,700 spring; Lewis, 1,000 fall and 57,550 spring; Marion, 20,950 fall and 86,000 spring; Monongalia, 12,200 fall and 41,500 spring; Preston, 26,300 fall and 184,350 spring; Randolph, 30,200 fall and 304,425 spring; Tucker, 10,000 fall and 137,025 spring; Upshur, 70,750 fall and 134,600 spring.

The planned state-wide distribution for fall and next spring includes 1,500 Scotch pine, 1,165,000 Norway spruce, 745,000 black locust, 614,000 white pine, 608,000 red pine, 179,000 tulip poplar, 67,000 shortleaf pine, 60,000 Virginia pine and 23,000 European larch.

Woodrum told the Upper Monongahela Valley Association that trees occasionally are distributed beyond state boundaries but only when a West Virginia surplus of a particular tree species might be traded to another state for a different species needed here. All out-of-state shipments have been handled in this manner, and the trades have all been for small quantities of trees and were to the advantage of both parties concerned. At other times, the state has purchased trees needed for distribution directly from private and other out-of-state agencies.

The five and one-half million seedlings production and distribution shows an increase from distribution of 3,537,302 seedlings in the 1956 fiscal year. A surplus of trees available for distribution is not expected although there is a possibility of difficulty in moving the production due to a loss of technical personnel in the field. About one million seedlings have been shipped this fall from the nursery.

The increased production this fiscal year, Woodrum said, was based on the estimated requirements received by the nursery from the five district foresters scattered throughout the state. Production has been based on their estimates and to date there has been no trouble distributing the trees produced for requirements, despite occasional overproduction or underproduction in a particular species.

The nursery has collected with in the state the following tree seeds: 1,200 bushels of white pine cones for an anticipated three-year seedling program, 90 bushels of Virginia pine cones and 100 bushels of yellow poplar pods.

Distribution from the Parsons State Forest Nursery has shown an almost steady climb to the five and one-half million level row, as follows: 780,000 seedlings shipped in the 1945 fiscal year; 528,000 in the 1946 fiscal year; 614,000 in 1947; 631,000 in 1948;

1,490,000 in 1949; 2,036,000 in 1950; 2,155,000 in 1951; 2,685,000 in 1952; 2,884,000 in 1953; 3,494,000 in 1954; 2,885,000 in 1955 and 3,537,000 in 1956.

The Upper Monongahela Valley Association pointed to the increased production and planting of trees, and especially the rather sharp increase this fiscal year as a strong factor in strengthening woodland production and in watershed improvement generally.

12 Somerset County Schools Plan Entries

First Two Are Announced Today

MEYERSDALE, Pa. — The race to capture Pennsylvania's sweetest title for 1957 is on. Competing for the right to be named Pennsylvania's Queen Maple X, at the Maple Queen Contest to be held Wednesday, February 13 in Johnstown, are senior girls from Somerset County's 12 high schools.

When the final vote is tallied and the tenth anniversary Maple Queen is announced, plans will then be completed for the big Maple Festival in Meyersdale, April 5-7, 1957. Besides a coveted title, the new queen will be awarded a state senatorial scholarship by Senator J. Irving Whalley of Windber, a $100 cash educational scholarship award by the Maple Festival, and numerous gifts and presentations.

During the past several weeks, each of Somerset County's high schools has been conducting contests to select entries to represent their schools in the Maple Queen Contest. Heading the list of contestants to date are Miss Marjory Ann Bowers of Shanksville-Stoneycreek Joint Schools, and Miss Rosita Gross of Meyersdale Joint Schools.

For the next six weeks contestants will be coached, groomed and drilled on how to walk, talk, appear in public and on stage. Special emphasis will be placed on how to impress a board of judges by personality at a tea, in an evening gown, with a talent number, and personality from the stage.

Is Commercial Student

Miss Bowers is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy H. Bowers of Somerset RD 5. She was selected Shanksville-Stoneycreek's contestant over four other senior girls. As a commercial student Miss Bowers is planning to become a secretary upon finishing high school.

School activities for Miss Bowers include chorus, cheerleading, dance club, The Violet and the Cichonian, school paper and yearbook respectively. The five-foot-four-inch lass is fair complexioned with brown hair and eyes. Weighing 138 pounds, the 17-year-old enjoys reading, sports and dancing as hobbies.

A member of the Mizpah Lutheran Church near Shanksville, Miss Bowers has not yet announced her talent for the Maple Queen Contest. Her coaches are Mrs. Emma Jean Barron and Mrs. Winifred Coleman.

Plans Nursing Career

Miss Gross is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Gross of 329 High Street in Meyersdale. In a run-off contest in the Meyersdale joint schools, she was selected winner over five other contestants. The 17-year-old senior did a tap dance to "Varsity Drag" accompanied by Chester Miller at the piano.

Standing five feet eight and one-half inches tall and weighing 127 pounds, Miss Gross has brown hair and eyes and a medium fair complexion. As an academic student she hopes to enter nursing training at Mercy Hospital in Johnstown.

In school Miss Gross is secretary of the senior class and president of the dramatics club. She is also a member of the history club, Alpha Tri-Hi-Y and yearbook staff. Her hobbies include music, dancing, swimming and roller skating.

She is a member of S. S. Philip and James Catholic Church in Meyersdale where she plays the organ and sings in the choir.

In the Maple Festival's nine-year history, maple queens have been selected from six of the 12 high school districts in Somerset County. Somerset has been a leader with queens for 1950, 1951 and 1955. Meyersdale had winners in 1948 and 1952.

The sweetest title was held by queens from Salisbury in 1949, Berlin in 1954, Shanksville in 1955, and Boswell in 1956.

Moorefield CAP Plans For Year

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. — Senior members of Moorefield's Civil Air Patrol squadron met at the home of Lt. William C. Goetz, commanding officer of the unit, to prepare plans for the coming year.

Lt. Goetz reported that additional parts for the two-way radio are available and a communications station will be functioning by spring for the CAP network. He also announced that the Ground Observer Corps observation station will be limited in its operation, temporarily.

The senior members agreed to work more closely with the cadet members of the squadron during the ensuing year. The next meeting will be called by Lt. Goetz as the occasion warrants.

First 1957 Baby Born At Miners

FROSTBURG — The first baby of 1957 at Miners Hospital was born yesterday when Mrs. Chester Miller of Dudley Street, Lonaconing, gave birth to a daughter at 6:25.

Westernport Will Assess Delinquents

Adds Water Bill Late Payment Fee

WESTERNPORT — The water ordinance of the Town of Westernport will be amended to include an additional charge of 25 cents to consumers who have not paid their current water bill before or on the twenty-fifth of each month. Also after 10 days of that date if the bill has not been paid, water service will be discontinued.

The request of the Physicians Procurement Board to remove a parking meter in the rear of the town's number one parking lot for entry in the Union Building was referred to Commissioners Ray L. Wilt and Leo Herbert.

The second floor of the Union Building is being remodeled for the office for Dr. Sheesley and a stairway will be placed in the rear of the building and the door will open to the parking lot.

George DeWitt, city clerk was also authorized at the meeting of Mayor Okey E. Michael and Town Commissioners Wednesday evening, to employ additional help the last six days of each month to assist in getting out the monthly water bills.

A citizens advisory committee will be set up with four subdivisions as follows: Zoning and Code; Streets and Sanitation; Recreation and Parks, and Parking and Traffic.

The town is looking forward to the many problems it will face with the expansion of the Luke Mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

Each committee will be comprised of five citizens.

Keyser Elks Give 26 Holiday Baskets

KEYSER — In cooperation with the mayor and city officials and the United Relief of Westernport, Keyser Lodge 1916, BPO Elks, donated 26 Christmas baskets in this area.

The Elks' baskets included a large turkey, one peck of apples, potatoes, oranges, two loaves of bread, two cans of milk, one can of cranberries, two pounds of lima beans, assorted bag of candy and nuts, one fruit cake, and a large chocolate Santa Claus.

The social and community welfare committee of the Elks was in charge of the distribution of the Elks Christmas baskets. Members include H. J. Borgen, chairman; Edward Daskal, Henry Groudan, Dakin Morehouse and Charles Coyle.

Continuing through January 31, this part of their outstanding and worthwhile contribution to the public, he noted.

Lonaconing has been fortunate not to have experienced a polio epidemic, but a few cases and cases of friends and relatives in the area, rate everyone's contributing to the 1957 March of Dimes drive, Mr. Marshall declared.

"Let's try for the best ever this 1957 campaign. Your cooperation will be greatly appreciated. Make checks payable to Mr. T. A. Park, treasurer," stated Chairman Marshall.

Patient aid is the highest cost program with more than a quarter of billion dollars recorded by the March of Dimes program for 1956 again showed...

Where you save does make a difference...

A record reward to the thrifty! More than $900,000,000 in earnings went to the 18 million people who saved in 1956 at insured Savings and Loan Associations. More new savings... making the total more than $34 billion... are now entrusted to the nation's insured Savings and Loan Associations. And each account is insured up to $10,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation. More homes financed. 1 out of every 3 home mortgages—70% more home loans than any other type of lending institution—was provided last year by insured Savings and Loan Associations, too.

Remember in 1957...

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

A Good Makeup

Makeup can work magic for you if you continually seek self-improvement. It's not so much which cosmetics you use as it is how you use them. There are special tricks for special types, but there are a few general rules of make up which everyone should know. No one uses makeup more constantly than models, and no complexions are so well-known for their attractiveness as well as youthfulness.

Practice on yourself until you have a makeup that pleases you. Here are a few points to remember.

1—Never apply new makeup without first cleansing the face. Putting on new makeup over old is a sure way to clog and coarsen the pores. After cleansing, gently go over your face with a cotton pad or ball moistened with skin freshener or astringent to remove every trace of cream.

2—It's the minimum amount of foundation that gives maximum loveliness. Place only a dab on your forehead, one on each cheek, the tip of your nose and your chin. Smooth on carefully and always check makeup in a good strong light. For evening use a darker foundation than for daytime (this is a general rule and may not work out for every complexion).

3—Use cream rouge in preference to dry rouge, and very little of that. If you look pale, add just a small amount until your natural color is simulated. Then look at yourself in the brightest light.

4—Choose lipstick color that matches your rouge.

5—Pat face powder on face and neck. Use freely. Let it "set" for a few minutes, then smooth and blend with cotton or powder brush.

"WHAT'S YOUR LINE?"—Horizontal, vertical and diagonal lines make a world of difference in what clothing will do for (or to) your figure. Complete information on handling lines to best advantage. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper, enclosing 3c (in coin) and a stamped, self-addressed return envelope.

By failing to count to 13, West permitted South to paint a false picture of his holding in today's hand, and thus sneak home with a vulnerable slam.

Declarer lost no time in getting to slam after the jump response. He knew by simple arithmetic that the partnership held sufficient assets to produce 12 tricks and was not inclined to make too precise an investigation, hoping that the silent treatment might induce a favorable lead.

West led the king of diamonds, which South took with the ace and drew trumps in two rounds. Declarer had two chances for his contract. If he could find one adversary with the queen-jack and another heart he could, by ruffing the third round, establish the nine of hearts for a discard of the club queen. If that suit failed to oblige he could fall back on the even chance that the club finesse would win.

So he tried the heart suit and East held out. He then entered dummy with a trump and ruffed out the remaining heart, clearing all hands of that suit. His plan was then to throw West into the lead in order to coax a club return.

Slyly holding up the six of diamonds, he got out with the nine of that suit and West was in the queen. Convinced that declarer had no more red cards, West led a club and declarer spread his hand.

A diamond return by West would have upset the slam, and West had available the data to make such a lead clear cut. This involves an elementary problem in counting. South has shown up with six spades and only two hearts so that if he has only two diamonds, he is marked with three clubs. Therefore, if West leads a diamond and declarer is given the advantage of one discard, he will still be left with a losing club. If the argument is advanced that West's suggested play will lose a trick if declarer holds A x x of clubs, the retort is handy: "What's 100 points when 1530 are involved?"

To iron rough, dry garments in a hurry, try this: Dampen, roll tight, wrap in a cloth and put into the oven while the iron is heating. The garments will dampen for ironing in the warm oven, and the work takes only a few minutes.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 3 (INS)—The first important deal Benny Thau has made since he took over the production reigns of MGM is to sign Alfred Hitchcock to produce and direct "The Wreck of the Mary Deare," Hitchcock, master of suspenseful, romantic thrillers, will bring "Mary Deare" to the screen with an all-star cast to be filmed on the scale of "Mutiny on the Bounty" and "Captains Courageous."

"The Wreck of the Mary Deare" is based on a novel by Hammond Innes and it's just up Hitchcock's alley, what with its criminal plot, sabotage of the ship and what have you. The starting date is after Hitch finishes "Amongst the Dead" at Paramount with Jimmy Stewart.

Doris Day and Marty Melcher sat absolutely entranced by the dramatic story of Army Sergeant David Griner and his wife, Maria, on the "You're on Your Own" TV show — and the minute it was over Marty was on the telephone to buy it for Doris.

The story of David and Maria Griner is sort of a feminine reverse twist on Matt Cvetic's "I Was a Communist for the FBI" which Warners made into a movie.

Like Cvetic, Maria was a registered Communist for 11 years and barred from entry into the USA — and all the while she was an undercover operator for Uncle Sam. Even her sergeant husband didn't know she was loyal to this country until the Pentagon gave permission to reveal it on the TV show.

Cupid is off to a flying start in '57. At a New Year's Day party the Harold Mirsches (he's one of the heads of Allied Artists) announced the coming marriage of their daughter, Maxine, to young Philadelphia businessman, Jerome Siegel. Wedding is in June. Although there's no official announcement yet — it looks as if Notre Dame's famed All-American Paul Hornung and Maureen Cassidy are a headin' for a wedding. Right after the East-West football game in San Francisco, he returned to visit Maureen's family.

And, in Las Vegas, Jack Dempsey was best man for his good friend Roland Barber (who just scripted "The Jack Dempsey Story" and wrote "Somebody Up There Likes Me"). Roland married Mrs. Pearl McNeil, the Desert Inn on Jan. 2. Jack introduced them.

I've just heard one of the nicest things about our most decorated war hero, Audie Murphy. When he was in Japan making "Joe Butterfly," he heard about a 13-year-old Japanese-American girl and of her eagerness to live in America, so he went to visit the child and her widowed mother.

Thanks to Audie, the little girl is now here and has entered school. Her mother is planning to come to this country as soon as she can make arrangements to live here. This is a wonderful thing for Audie to do.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:
 Sir Cedric Hardwicke, who had a bad time following surgery, is not allowed any visitors at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital. Here's hoping he'll soon feel better.

Marlon Brando's business partner, George England, becomes a father for the third time in the spring.

The Piper Laurie-Gene Nelson idyll is colder than the eastern winter weather. Piper takes off for New York to study at the Actors Studio for six months.

All the friends of Lola Albright and Jack Carson wish they hadn't started the new year so badly by separating.

Congratulations to the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and the motion picture industry. Adela Rogers St. John has been invited to replace the late Ida Koverman as liaison between the two, Adela, who is civic minded, will do a great job.

Mimi Henreid, 11-year-old daughter of the Paul Henreids, got off to a bad start in the new year when she fell from a horse at La Quinta and broke her arm. The Rock Hudsons entertained Phyllis' mother and father from Montevideo, Minn., over the holidays. U-I's gift to their fair-haired boy was a $9,000 redecorating job in his home.

Candy Jones Conover, of the New York model agency, is here to investigate motion pictures and TV.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

IS LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

U.S. Will Return Aid Specialists To Egypt, Israel

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—The United States is about to order 185 American foreign aid specialists to return to Egypt, Jordan and Israel as a first step toward resuming war-interrupted economic assistance to those three countries.

The technicians were pulled out of the Middle East after Israel's Oct. 29 invasion of the Sinai Peninsula. Their absence from the scene, plus U.S. uncertainty over the future of the area, ground to a halt the economic aid program already approved by congress and in operation.

The State Department is reported to have queried ambassadors in the area to determine whether they have any objections to allowing the foreign aid men to resume their work.

The aid specialists, 75 from Egypt, 55 from Jordan, and 55 from Israel, had been evacuated along with their families. Most of them have been stationed temporarily in Lebanon, Greece and Italy while awaiting orders.

Although all are expected to go back soon, there is no sign the Eisenhower administration is in a hurry to allocate new aid funds.

The government's foreign aid agency has been reviewing the entire Middle East program, officials said. When assistance is resumed, they said, the plan is to concentrate more funds and attention on major projects, cutting out "marginal" operations.

The foreign aid review coincides with an indirect appeal from the Egyptian government for American aid to prop up its war-battered economy.

Egypt's President Nasser is understood to have advised American Ambassador Raymond Hare and other Western envoys that such outside assistance would be needed to resume normal domestic and international business life.

The Treasury and State departments reported there has been no change in their policy of freezing 40 million dollars in dollar assets belonging to the Egyptian government and the old Suez Canal Co.

Egypt's Foreign Minister informally asked a few days ago that these funds, frozen last July 31 after the Suez Canal was seized, be turned loose.

Big 3 Built 2 Million Less Cars Last Year

DETROIT, Jan. 3 (AP)—The "big three" automobile manufacturers reported today that they built 5,601,854 cars in 1956. The total is almost 2,000,000 below the 1955 record.

General Motors, which builds Chevrolets, Pontiacs, Buicks, Oldsmobiles and Cadillacs, reported total passenger car production of 3,062,428 units. GM's 1955 total was 3,989,987 passenger cars.

Ford Motor Co. said it built a total of 1,669,165 Fords, Mercurys, Lincolns and Continentals. In 1955 Ford built 2,240,661 cars in its four lines.

Chrysler reported a 1956 total of 870,261 cars. It builds Plymouth, Dodge, DeSoto, Chrysler and Imperial. Chrysler's 1955

McKeldin Seeks 5c Cigaret Tax

Would Raise $7.2 Million
To Balance Record Budget

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 3 (AP) — Gov. McKeldin said tonight he will ask the General Assembly to levy a state tax of 5 cents per pack on cigarettes and 2 to 4 cents on cigars in order to balance his 1957-58 budget.

Manufacturers Attack Sales Tax Collections

Kennedy Charges Many Evasions

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 3 (AP)—Maryland's manufacturers today criticized the state's sales tax collectors for going to extremes in collecting levies.

Walter F. Kennedy, chief of the Retail Sales Tax Division, argued on the other hand that manufacturers have found a way to evade the original intent to tax their tools and equipment.

The manufacturers at least won a delaying action in the debate before the Senate Finance Committee.

Chairman Turnbull (D-Balto) County had been inclined before the hearing to comply with a rush order on a bill from the comptroller that would permit continued collection of the tax on manufacturing equipment.

"Imperative" Legislation Gov. McKeldin had sent out word "It is imperative that this legislation be given immediate favorable consideration and action by the General Assembly."

But protesters aroused sufficient doubt in the minds of the Finance Committee to have the committee schedule another hearing next Wednesday. The House Ways and Means Committee will sit in.

A decision has to be made promptly, because it will affect the budget which McKeldin must submit within the next 19 days.

The sales tax people estimate the state may be liable for 1½ million dollars in refunds to manufacturers if the Legislature doesn't spell out that certain equipment, which is sold after being used, is subject to the 2 per cent tax.

The state has been collecting the tax for the past nine years. But some concerns paid under protest and early last month the Court of Appeals ruled that they did not have to pay it.

Firms which have paid may apply for refunds up to three years back.

A Change In Law?

Kennedy got a lot of argument against his claim that the proposed new definition of the sales tax is not a change in the law.

"This bill provides for pyramiding of tax and substantially changes the law," argued Charles C. Evans, lawyer for the Glenn L. Martin Airplane Manufacturing Co.

The tax was "illegally collected" in the past according to the Court of Appeals, Evans said.

The use tax, a companion part of the sales levy, applies to goods purchased in other states for use in Maryland and to articles shipped out of state. Much of the tools and equipment which the state has been taxing were sold by Maryland firms to out-of-state customers and the federal government.

Business Loss Feared

Bushong told the Finance Committee collection of the tax "may drive business out of Maryland." He was supported in his statement that the sales tax administrators have gone beyond original application of the tax by William Wilson Jr. of the Baltimore Assn. of Commerce.

The comptroller's bill would provide that the tax on manufacturing equipment be retroactive to the date of enactment of the sales levy.

This caused some concern to legal members on the committee, although Atty. Gen. Ferdinand Sybert assured them he considered it constitutional.

Evans disagreed. "I don't think any court would uphold going back 10 years," he said.

Tri-Towns Put Off Sewage Plant Decision

Preliminary Survey Would Cost $2,500

Officials of Luke, Westernport and Piedmont last night withheld any decision on a possible cost survey for possible municipal use of a waste treatment plant to be built at the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company's mill at Luke.

At a meeting in the Westernport Council Chamber the mayors and councilmen of the Tri-Towns communities discussed the possibility of tying in with the $3,000,000 project contemplated by the paper mill in conjunction with its $50,000,000 expansion program.

The town officials met with two representatives of the Robert T. Regester consultant engineering firm of Baltimore and discussed possible costs to the three municipalities.

The consultant engineers, Harry Bremer and William H. Marcan of Cumberland, said they could give no estimate of the anticipated cost to the towns for interceptor sewers and other facilities necessary to use the sewage treatment plant until a preliminary survey is made and a data report compiled.

They told the town commissioners this type of survey and report would cost about $2,500.

The community officials said they would not authorize a survey at this time until further studies are made as to what the paper plant plans in its program and how much state or federal aid might be received to help defray the costs.

Another meeting is scheduled between the town officials and representatives of the Maryland State Department of Health next Thursday at the Westernport Council Chamber at 7:30 p. m.

The following day, Friday, January 11, the mayors and commissioners will meet with mill officials at Luke to discuss the program.

Attending last night's meeting were Mayors Okey E. Michael of Westernport, who presided, Rodney Baker of Piedmont and Edward Duckworth of Luke; Town Commissioners Alvin Pence, Ray L. Wilt and Maurice Brundage of Westernport; Councilman Joseph Maybury of Piedmont; and Commissioner Manuel Diaz of Luke.

Mrs. Charles Helmrich, in charge of the unit for Allegany County Chapter American Red Cross, said response was "excellent," and added that the Red Cross hoped to add other area industries to its itinerary, as many people are unable to donate blood during the unit's regular visits to the city.

Attending physician was Dr. Blaine Schindler, assisted by Mrs. Willa Wood, plant nurse. The unit will be at the Eagles Home on North Mechanic Street here next Monday from noon to 6 p. m., and at the Legion Home in Frostburg the following day during the same hours.

Motor Vehicle Committee Plan Detoured

Solons Continue Organization

(By The Associated Press) The sales tax hearing was the main legislative business of the day as both houses of the General Assembly whipped through short formal meetings and continued organizing the committees which will handle the major work of the session.

One of these, a newly proposed motor vehicles committee, had already hit a snag. The House went ahead with plans to set it up despite objections from its Judiciary Committee.

Chairman Simpkins (D-Somerset) said the bills involved legal points which he felt his committee should pass on. It is composed mostly of attorneys and has handled similar legislation in the past. Members agreed with the chairman that the special committee would be "unnecessary."

In the Senate, President Goldstein (D-Calvert) and Sen. Malkus (D-Dorchester), chairman of the Judicial Proceedings Committee, seemed agreed that the Senate should not set up a special motor vehicles group. They said two or three senators could be appointed as a special subcommittee to sit with the House motor vehicles group and Malkus' committee could handle the bills when they came on that side.

There were 28 bills introduced at Wednesday's opening session involving motor vehicles, and all went to the House Judiciary Committee until they could be referred to the special committee.

Simpkins called a meeting of his committee for this morning to decide which of the bills it should keep and which it would turn over to the special group.

In a 30-minute House session, delegates received their committee appointments and gave tentative approval to three bills. All had been screened by the Legislative Council between sessions and were set up for final passage without debate.

One would change the law under which contracts are awarded for school buildings, supplies and equipment. It would provide that, instead of awarding such contracts only on the basis of low bids, county education boards also give consideration to "quantities involved, time required for delivery, competency and responsibility of bidder, and his ability to render satisfactory service."

The other two would make social security benefits possible for certain state employees who become 70 before Jan. 1, 1958, and broaden the retirement system credits of some teachers.

The Senate was in session only 16 minutes and spent most of the time discussing whether to permit live radio and television coverage of its session. It finally agreed to do so by a vote of 16-10, one more than necessary to change the rules.

Frostburg will have Victor Lemmert heading its drive while Mrs. Robert Deal will be chairman of the Mt. Savage effort.

N. Mechanic St. Office Site Is Chosen By ESB

Go-Ahead Slated Within 30 Days

The Employment Security Board yesterday chose a site fronting on North Mechanic and Bow streets for the new office building it will lease for its Cumberland operations.

Robert B. Kimble, chairman, said the board selected the site as the best all-around location for the integrated program of the Department of Employment Security.

He said the recommendation is being forwarded to the Board of Public Works of Maryland and the regional office of the federal Bureau of Employment Security. Approval, he added, is expected to come through in about 10 days, and construction of the new office building could get underway in about 30 days.

The bid accepted by the Employment Security Board was made by John Stewart for Mountaineer, Inc.

The ESB plans to lease the one-story building erected on the site by the company for a 10-year period, with an option to renew at the end of that time.

Includes All Services

Former Senator Kimble said the bid was $3.05 per square foot, which includes all utilities, including air conditioning, complete janitor services and repairs, plus an impressive sign.

Rent, he estimated, would be about $1,500 a month.

He said the building will be of modern one-story brick construction, with wide windows, and with parking space off Bow Street for the staff of the office as well as for field personnel who will visit the office.

For some years the Cumberland office of the Department of Employment Security has been located on the second floor of the old Footer Building on Howard Street.

Early this year, Merchandise Mart, owner of the property, entered into a lease agreement for a modern office building fronting on South Mechanic Street.

Considered Sites

Plans to use the site were dropped after two starts, as the area will be needed for one of the Williams Street ramps of the Cumberland Thruway.

The Board considered a number of locations before making its decision, Mr. Kimble said.

One was a site fronting on South Mechanic and Pershing street. This was the most convenient of all, he said, being opposite the Post Office and within a block of Baltimore Street.

But he said that in discussing the site with city officials and others it was pointed out that the building would add to traffic congestion in that area, since parking facilities were not available.

Another site considered was off George Street, at the rear of the double-deck area of the Blue-White Tower Parking Service. Access to the building would have been from Henry Street.

Also considered was a site at Cumberland and North Chase streets. Mr. Fimble said the board liked the location but felt it was too far from the center of the city and was served by only one bus route.

He said the North Mechanic and Bow streets site was considered the best location. One factor in the decision was the report by city officials that off-street parking facilities may be developed in that area which might eliminate the necessity of using both streets for parking, giving better entry to the office building.

Mr. Kimble said several bids based on remodeling plans were rejected, as the board felt it would be impractical and too expensive to convert existing building to meet its needs.

It is vital, Mr. Kimble said, that quarters be on one floor under the department program of streamlining its facilities by integrating the employment and unemployment insurance services.

He said the new Department of Employment Security office building will be a credit to the architecture of Cumberland.

Wreck Probe Continuing

An investigation is being continued in Tuesday's head-on collision of two B&O freight trains by T. J. Klauenberg, superintendent of the Cumberland Division of the railroad.

Meanwhile service has resumed at the Cumbo yards five miles northeast of Martinsburg. Three crewmen were killed and five others injured in the early morning crash.

James Duvall, 33, of RD 4, city, who was admitted to Kings Daughters Hospital, Martinsburg, in "critical" condition is reported "much better."

Others still hospitalized are S. G. Thomas, 43, Moorefield, engineer, in "fair" condition; Lawrence V. Lowery, 42, of 714 Frederick Street, fireman, "fair"; and Ferry E. Toltz, 42, Knoxville, Md., conductor, also in "fair" condition.

J. G. Muir, 38, city, who was taken to the hospital, has been discharged.

Hungarian Family Arrives Here

This young Hungarian refugee family is shown at the LaVale home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. (Bud) Rosenbaum shortly after their arrival here aboard a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad train. They will make their new home at the Rosenbaum's farm at Finzel in Garrett County. The family consists of Joseph Marton, 23; his wife, Anna, 21, and their two-year-old daughter, Katalin. The refugees said they had to walk 350 miles, virtually all of it at night, to escape detection by the Russians and Hungarian Communists, before reaching safety in Austria.
